Princess Royal Sails

QUEBEC (CP)—The Princess Royal sailed for England Thursday night after a 15-day visit to Canada.

Before being taken by tender to the Empress of England, she reviewed a guard of honor of the Royal 22nd Regiment while a 21-gun salute echoed over the ancient battlements of the Citadel.

Several hundred Quebecers lined the Esplanade and the waterfront to cheer the 65-year-old princess.

Thursday she toured the nearby Ile d'Orleans, stopping at the village of St. Francois where she visited a Roman Catholic Church built in 1734.

Market Talks Stalled

BRUSSELS (CP-Reuters)—Edward Heath, Britain's chief negotiator for entry into the European Common Market, was reported Thursday to have made no notable progress in obtaining Common Market guarantees for Canadian, Australian and New Zealand farm exports.

Heath, deputy foreign secretary, conferred for 2½ hours with the ministers representing the Common Market six—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Heath sought to obtain for the three Commonwealth countries once Britain joins the Common Market, farm-export outlets comparable to the ones they now enjoy in Britain.

Sources close to the talks, who issued the up-to-date progress report, said the Italian chairman of the negotiations, Emilio Colombo, repeated the problems of commodity exports from Canada, Australia and New Zealand should be dealt with in the framework of worldwide commodity agreements.

Colombo, Italy's industry and commerce minister, said an initiative to call an international conference to deal with the matter should be taken as early as 1963.

Nevada Feels 40th Test Underground

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 40th announced nuclear test shot of an underground series dating back to last September was exploded Thursday beneath the Nevada desert.

The Atomic Energy Commission, announcing the underground blast, said it was a low-yield device. That designation is given to explosions having a blast force less than 20,000 tons of TNT.

Dog Saves Young Master

Two close friends show their fondness for each other after Boxer Pup-Pup killed a rattlesnake which had threatened its master, David Gamble, 3, of Chattanooga, Tenn. The dog barely survived three snakebites.

Churchill Cheerful Despite Fracture

MONTE CARLO (Reuters)—Sir Winston Churchill underwent a successful operation after he broke a thighbone in a fall Thursday and was reported in "good" general condition Thursday night.

Britain's indomitable elder statesman will be flown home today in an RAF plane for further treatment. Churchill's private secretary Anthony Montague-Brown said.

He read to reporters a medical bulletin which said the 87-year-old Churchill suffered a simple fracture of the shaft of the femur, or thighbone, and his general condition was "good."

FELL FROM BED
The wartime British prime minister broke the bone in a fall while getting out of bed in the luxury Hotel de Paris.

He was taken to Monaco's Princess Grace polyclinic and operated on there in the afternoon by Dr. Charles Chatelin, the hospital's chief surgeon.

Hospital officials said the operation consisted of setting the broken bone and putting the leg in plaster. A spokesman said Churchill was "quite comfortable" and added that "he is so cheerful that he is talking about his return to England."

HAD THEM BEFORE
Considering his age, one official said, his resistance was "remarkable — positively Churchillian."

In London, his wife Clementine and son Randolph waited anxiously to see whether they should fly to his bedside but his personal physician Lord Moran, said "he has had accidents before and come through."

Released details

It was not until 1953, 12 years after the assassination, that the RCMP released full details on how Morand obtained a Canadian passport.

NDP Declares All-Out Fight On Tight Money

TORONTO (CP)—The New Democratic Party leadership promised Thursday an all-out fight against any monetary and fiscal "belt-tightening" measures by Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

Thrift Jars Probe

TORONTO (CP)—John F. Cronin gave the Ontario Royal Commission on Crime a lesson on how to bury $50,000 in glass jars Thursday but left it half-filled as to how he accumulated the cache.

The former Ontario Provincial Police sergeant's explanation of how he tucked away roughly as much as he earned in 12 years on the anti-gambling squad left questioners in some awe as they tried to nail down allegations that he was a tipoff man for organized gambling.

"A modern miracle," commented Liberal party counsel B. J. MacKinnon.

LOAVES, FINNIES
"The loaves and fishes," Mr. Justice W. D. Roach, the commissioner suggested.

Through four hours of grilling by four lawyers and the commissioner—who called the prosperous motel operator either evasive or stupid—he maintained insistently that he took no crooked money and lived mainly off his working wife's earnings while he loaded up a dozen preserve jars with currency.

His wife had earned some $35 a week while Cronin himself did some part-time stonemasonry, grass-cutting and grave-digging.

HEARNED $25,000

The ex-policeman's own account of his earnings was jumbled, but counsel calculated he had some $32,500 in police salary while burying between $30,000 and $35,000 in his years on the force—he said he already had around $20,000 when he joined.

His wife had earned some $35 a week while Cronin himself did some part-time stonemasonry, grass-cutting and grave-digging.

Divers Ready For Public

Navy divers prepare for demonstrations to be conducted from HMCS Sussex, when it is moored in Victoria's Inner Harbor this weekend. The ship will be open for public inspection from 1:30 to 4:15 p.m. Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Here O'S Lewis Lecky, Sub-Lt. Tom Eassey, and AB Glen Huxley prepare for a dive. (Colonist photo.)

Drainpipe Provides Only Exit

A steward slid down a drainpipe in his pajamas early yesterday to escape from a $6,300 fire in a two-storey house on the grounds of Government House.

Henry Witteneer, only occupant in the butler's home 50 yards from Government House, awakened about 3:30 a.m. in his second floor bedroom to find himself cut off by flames from the stairway. He took the next best way down, the drainpipe.

Fire started in a chesterfield in the living room downstairs. It caused an estimated $4,000 structural damage and $2,300 loss on contents.

BING'S DEBUT

Salt, Lemon Odd Taste Quirk But Won't Hurt Hale Person

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband loves raw lemons with a little salt; he eats from 6 to 10 a week. People have told him he will get stomach trouble from the acid. Is this true?

He also eats salt on everything from pickles to grapefruit. Any problem in this?—Mrs. T. V.

An odd quirk of taste, but the stomach is naturally acid, and it has been proved that citrus fruits do not increase the acidity. The chemical structure is changed, and the result of eating a lemon is, believe it or not, alkaline.

I see no harm in his taste for lemons. They are an excellent source of Vitamin C.

As to the salt, a little of it is an essential part of our food. Excessive amounts may be harmful to people with heart, blood pressure, liver or kidney problems, but won't hurt a healthy person.

Dear Dr. Molner: Almost three years ago I had a breast removed. I have been X-rayed several times and the doctor says everything is clear.

My arm is still swollen, and around the shoulder, and the breast bones are so stiff that I suffer at times. I have taken so many pain pills that my stomach is ruined. What can be done to relieve this tightness and hurting?—Mrs. H. S.

This sort of condition can, indeed, occur after extensive breast surgery. The lymphatic glands in the armpit are disturbed. Scar tissue forms and causes the arm to swell.

In addition, the same condition tends to act as a sort of natural "splint" on the shoulder, making it painful and stiff.

Physiotherapy can help appreciably. I mean a combination of things, not a single procedure.

Massage; assisted motion of the joint; heat; a long sleeve on the arm; appropriate exercise—all of these or some of them can help.

The process, I admit, is tedious, but it is frequently successful.

A "rehabilitation institute" or some similar facility in your community will provide this kind of therapy.

Kennedy Wins House Passage For Tariff-Cutting Powers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House of Representatives passed President Kennedy's sweeping new trade expansion bill Thursday after bowling over a Republican move to continue the present program.

The bill was sent to the Senate by a vote of 298 to 125.

QUICKLY

Passage of the measure came quickly after a 253-to-171 vote against substituting for the Kennedy program a Republican-sponsored bill that would have provided for a one-year extension of the present trade law with its depleted bargaining power.

On this key vote 43 Republicans joined 210 Democrats in defeating the substitution move while 44 Democrats and 127 Republicans were recorded for it.

Kennedy, who made a special appeal for passage of the bill at his press conference Wednesday, expressed gratification at the House action. He said it "reflects the national character of this legislation as well as its importance."

In a statement given to reporters by White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger, the president said he looks forward to "early and successful consideration" of the measure by the Senate.

The new trade program would give the president unprecedented authority to cut tariffs, in some cases to zero, and would set up a system for helping firms and workers hurt by imports.

UNPRECEDENTED

The bill would substitute for the almost-exhausted bargaining power of the present law, which expires Saturday midnight, unprecedented grants of tariff negotiating power to the president.

Its major emphasis is on authority to make sweeping agreements leading to a close working agreement with the European Common Market.

UN Vote Presses Rhodesia

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Despite rejection by Britain in advance, the United Nations General Assembly approved overwhelmingly Thursday an Afro-Asian resolution demanding a new constitution for Southern Rhodesia based on racial equality.

To underscore his country's protest, Sir Patrick Dean, head of the British delegation, strode from the assembly hall.

Portugal also refused to participate in the voting.

The entire Soviet bloc joined the Afro-Asians to pile up the big yes vote. The lone no vote came from South Africa. The abstainers included the United States, Canada and other western powers, along with some Latin American countries.

The bill would substitute for the almost-exhausted bargaining power of the present law, which expires Saturday midnight, unprecedented grants of tariff negotiating power to the president.

Growing Fears

THE LEADERS of all three opposition parties in Canada have at one time or another publicly charged the Diefenbaker government with adopting an anti-British policy because of its less than enthusiastic attitude toward the proposed entry of the United Kingdom into the European Common Market.

However, in their attempts to persuade the public that the Conservative Party is hostile to Great Britain, they have deliberately failed to mention that the official voice of Canada is but one of many raised in warning against the contemplated move.

Though it is true that it was the Canadian government which first recognized that Britain's membership in the European union would deal a death-blow to the unity of the Commonwealth, it stands far from alone today in its adherence to this realistic view.

The truth is that every independent member within the Commonwealth has now spoken out against Britain's entry into the ECM. True, their views have been motivated to a certain extent by selfishness and protectionism—just as have Canada's. But their attitude is also the result of their fears that the move will result in the disintegration of the Commonwealth and the loss of sovereignty for their acknowledged senior member—Great Britain.

At the moment Prime Minister Menzies of Australia is the most vociferous opponent of Britain's economic union with Europe. Speaking in London earlier this month he outlined some of the dangers facing his country if the move were made, stressing the fact that though Britain had pledged herself to protect Commonwealth trade as far as possible, she could not dictate the terms of her entry.

Earlier Australia's deputy prime minister, Mr. J. McEwen warned the House of Representatives that if Britain entered the ECM Australian industry would face a disastrous "precipice" after a transitional period. On food and other raw materials, he said that the British tax on Australian imports under ECM could be set by price quotations of foreign suppliers—"even Communists"—outside the Commonwealth and outside the Common Market.

These disastrous consequences as seen by the Australian government lie equally in store for all other members of the Commonwealth family. Thus it is the right and duty of their respective governments to speak openly and frankly in the interests of their own people.

Even in Britain itself opposition toward the Common Market is growing. Public opinion polls now show that 43.2 per cent of the British people are against economic union with Europe, while only 28.2 per cent favor it.

It will be interesting to see if the leaders of Canadian opposition parties—particularly Mr. Lester Pearson—will now accuse the British people themselves of being anti-British.

Something to Add?

A STRANGE BAIT of mixed promise and threat thrown into the political pool by Premier Bennett toward the close of the federal election campaign caught his party practically nothing, to all appearances; indeed it may have driven some fish away.

But it remains dangling as a source of concern to local governments, and thus to most of the people of British Columbia.

The premier announced on the one hand his intention to increase the home-owner's grant at the next session of the legislature from $50 to $100 (magically at no expense to the taxpayers of the province, of course) and on the other, to withdraw the grants to municipalities based on population and to substitute payment of taxes on provincial property within municipal borders. Even Victoria, with all its provincial buildings and land, will lose money under this deal.

Council after council in the province is now discovering to its consternation how greatly this substitution will decrease its revenue and how much tax rates will have to be raised as a consequence—unless Mr. Bennett, reluctant at the time of his announcement to amplify his remarks or go into detail, has other and compensatory tricks up his sleeve.

It is hard to believe that he hasn't.

For while the prospective mill-rat increases will eat up directly only part of the extra $50 the premier proposes to rebate on behalf of the eligible home-owner, they will bear heavily on each community as a whole: on business and industry and thereby on everyone. The many apartment-dwellers in the bigger cities, paying taxes in their rentals without provincial aid, will of course come out the worst of the lot.

Mr. Bennett thus can hardly expect his proposals in their present form to be received with wild enthusiasm. But if he has something to add, he should add it now, and spare the municipalities the worries they are experiencing.

Encouraging Figures

SELDOM HAS a more heartening set of statistics on road accidents come from the provincial motor-vehicle branch than those just issued.

They show, for the first five months of this year in comparison with the similar period in 1961, a decrease of 15 in highway fatalities, a decrease of 128 in persons injured, a decrease of 477 in accidents, a decrease of $174,000 in property damage.

A reduction in traffic mishaps and tragedies of this proportion surely is no quirk of circumstance, and must be regarded as evidence of British Columbia drivers in general taking more care, especially since there are ever more cars on the roads of the province.

Conversely, however, it illustrates how much a little extra reason at the wheel, commonly applied, can do.

And the rest of the motor-vehicle branch's figures tell unpleasantly how much remains to be done: 105 persons were killed from January to the end of May; 4,484 were injured, and damage to the extent of $4,779,010 was done in 10,237 accidents.

These are grim totals still. They are something for every driver and passenger in the province to think about this holiday weekend and all the time, not fearfully, but with certainty that everyone's contribution to highway safety counts.

Britain and the ECM

Opposition to Entry Growing

By RICHARD PURSER from London

PUBLIC opinion against Britain's entry into the European Common Market has been a long time getting off the ground here. It was formerly confined largely to editorial and slanted "news" stories in Lord Beaverbrook's newspapers, along with a few speeches and letters to the editor by cranks.

Now it has taken hold and become respectable. It is upheld by an increasingly articulate minority of MPs, cutting across both major parties in the House of Commons. (Although the Tories never seem to meet; left-wing Labor MPs worry most about a Britain forever wedded to capitalism and immune to state ownership of industry; right-wing Conservative MPs have other worries. The two rarely if ever plot strategy together—but if a showdown comes they might.)

One recent sign of the increasing organization of the upper-level anti is their formal entry into print. Two of their publications have just appeared. "Britain, Not Europe," edited by R. Hugh Corbet for the Anti-Common Market League, and "A Call to the Commonwealth," written and published privately by Tory MPs Sir Derek Walker-Smith and Peter Walker. Since both are pamphlets costing only 15 cents, the anti is hardly to be said to have published their magnum opus. But it's a start.

"Britain, Not Europe" has contributions by 16 anti-including four Tory MPs, Sir Roy Harrod, joint editor of the Economic Journal, C. E. Carrington, professor of Commonwealth relations at the Royal Institute of International Affairs, Sir Ernest Goodale, a vice-president of the Federation of British Industries, and Lord Balfour of Incheyre.

Sir Roy: "The over-riding issue (is) whether Britain is to divert her custom from the developing countries of the overseas world to the rich countries of Europe."

Prof. Carrington: "It is only because of the instability of the European regimes that they need our political support. If ever their regimes (and their trading partners) should become as stable as those of the 'old' Commonwealth countries there need be no talk of federal union. We, in the Commonwealth, have found a better way. Our economy has prospered precisely because it never became, or attempted to become, a closed market."

Sir Ernest: "Considerable rethinking, revising and reversal of costly practices would be required by trade unions and management alike before Britain could compete with the Common Market on an equal ground."

Lord Balfour: "Is Britain to solve its basic problem of securing vital needs from abroad by integrating with an area which is so similar to Britain? The proportion of essential imports from the Six is very negligible."

And so on. The booklet attacks the Common Market from many angles. "A Call to the Commonwealth" has a different approach. Rather than criticizing the Common Market per se, Sir Derek and Mr. Walker suggest a new Commonwealth policy as an alternative. Basically, they seek a Commonwealth conference on amendments to the General

U.S. Foreign Aid

By KIP COOPER (Fourth of Five Articles)

FOREIGN aid involves billions of dollars. It requires skilled financial planning and execution. Yet many of the programs are in the hands of "amateurs."

It took 800 years for the Western world to attain a high degree of economic and political stability.

The collapse of more than a dozen world empires since the First World War thrust on the Free World the responsibility for producing viable economies in scores of new nations.

There have been successes and there have been failures. The failures have been attributed to greed, racial pride and just plain mistakes. Governments of many Asian, African and Latin American countries are politically unstable and economically weak, but they must help to make foreign aid decisions.

A congressional subcommittee recently criticized the tendency of some countries to hoard unused aid funds while requesting more.

In Turkey, South Korea and South Vietnam, the committee found millions of aid dollars provided in 1960 had not been spent. Turkey now faces a serious financial crisis. Vietnam is receiving more and more U.S. aid and South Korea seeks capital to help with its new five-year development plan.

"Unused dollars should be returned to the United States treasury so they can be disbursed in new aid," said Rep. Catherine May. "When unidentified reserves exist in foreign countries, the validity of requests for other aid are questionable."

Other congressmen charge that Africans misuse foreign aid funds to pay themselves handsome salaries and to buy extra wives.

"U.S. taxpayers are footing the bill for $3,000 a month salaries for Congolese cabinet members," charges Rep. Wayne L. Hays. "This is more than American congressmen make."

Sen. Henry Dworshak read to the Senate a news story from Nairobi, Kenya: "You are undermining our efforts by not using this (aid) money to develop your businesses. The money was not

A Look at Cuba Today

Without Castro, Chaos

By GAVIN YOUNG (Third of Four Articles)

I MET Castro by chance outside a Havana night club, at half-past two in the morning. I invited him in. Strong and paunchy framed, with a straggled beard, he sat in a steel-framed chair and propped his back against the wall of the bar.

"I don't drink," he said. "but I'll have a coffee and a quarter of an hour with you." He talked animatedly for more than an hour and a half; five guards with machine pistols stood around watchfully.

Although Castro is Cuba's prime minister, he refuses to keep office hours. He is liable to pop up almost anywhere at any time, usually late at night. He works 14 hours a day. After gruelling television appearances he likes to drop into the kitchen of the former Havana Hilton Hotel for a scratch meal. His unavailability is a source of complaint to subordinates with documents to be signed. He is a restless talker. He speaks fair, fluent English better than he understands it. His voice is soft and hoarse. He listens intently to questions, narrowing small, shrewd watchful eyes in a fleshy face. Three-quarter view he looks like Peter Sellers taking off Ustinov taking off Castro.

He said he had no desire to meet President Kennedy even if invited. "I've no interest. He shifted irritably in his seat. He believes the Americans are still plotting against him; but he wouldn't go further than to say another invasion is 'possible.' Nevertheless he would be willing to discuss compensation to nationalized American firms if the United States buys Cuban sugar again.

As he talks, Castro makes wide, sweeping, diving motions with his hands. He emphasizes points by prodding you in the chest with a forefinger or leaning forward to tap you confidentially on the knee. When he mentions the Americans he looks sad. "I am a friend of Americans. I don't hate the American people. I was very popular over there, you know. But they can't get the truth. Their radio and newspapers are controlled by big business. All give them a false story."

He said he'd abandoned non-alignment because Cuba's circumstances were different from those of Yugoslavia or Egypt. "An time went on I found I had more in common with the Socialist bloc." On his way out to his car, he stopped to sign autographs for a group of Canadians.

More than three years after the fall of the American-backed dictator Batista, Fidel Castro is still the political weathercock of the Cuban Revolution. His towering, turbulent personality dominates his collaborators. What Castro says, what Castro does, what happens to Castro is of immense importance to Cuba. He still reveals in frequent marathon three or four-hour television talks, and what he says is closely followed by thousands. He is a skilful, though repetitive, orator. If there's no Castro speech for a week or two at a stretch foreign diplomats are uneasy and begin to wonder if they should report that "something significant may have happened to him."

Castro himself personifies and typifies the revolution to a remarkable degree. Like other Cubans, he is reckless, mercurial, proud. He can be emotional and blatantly ruthless; absurdly histrionic and devastatingly frank. He is at his best on television, identifying himself unflinchingly with the common man.

He has personally condemned the "fruit of personality," but his earthy informality has made him adored by the Fidelista in the street. He told me "I've been compared to Simon Bolivar. But this is the century of the masses; the need produces the leader. It wasn't Churchill who won the war but the soldiers and workers. Here it's not Fidel—or Juan or Pedro either—it's the people that matter." But the cult is there nevertheless; in terms of political reality it is Fidel who matters more than any other Cuban leader. No one has any idea what would happen if he were somehow removed from the scene; but everyone agrees there would be chaos.

The "Old Guard" Cuban Communist Party (PSP) collaborates with a cautious enthusiasm. Last March the party leadership meekly endorsed Castro's violent denunciation and exile of another old Communist stalwart, Anibal Escalante.

Escalante's crime was "sectarianism"—he had used his position in the National Directorate of ORI (the Integrated Revolutionary Organizations, forerunner of the United Party of the Revolution) to infiltrate PSP members into key positions throughout the administration.

It is hard to believe that Escalante's close party colleagues were unaware of his activities. They had evidently decided that in the event of detection and denunciation Escalante would make a worthy scapegoat. Blas Roca, secretary-general of the PSP, Escalante's collaborator and now editor of the Communist newspaper Hoy (Today), told me, "Escalante was condemned unanimously. He used his position in a threat for personal power."

Members of Fidel's own 26th-of-July Movement are plainly relieved by Castro's attack on Escalante. It demonstrated their ascendancy over the Communist traditionalists. Escalante's tactics were causing serious administrative dislocation. Differences between the Old PSP and the "New" Communists can hardly have had an ideological basis; they are both treading the same Marxist-Leninist path. But the PSP leaders, experienced or organization men, may well have mistrusted the erratic character of the 26th-of-July leaders.

There is widespread belief that the Social Credit party drew most of its votes from the ranks of those who had supported Union Nationale provincially.

One reason advanced for the election outcome was that the provincial Liberals failed to campaign for their federal candidates while the Union Nationale machine stood on the sidelines alone. It had worked for the Conservatives in 1958.

There is some belief that Social Credit in Quebec will become in effect the federal arm of the provincial Union Nationale.

fore its leaders hastily jumped on Castro's victory bandwagon the party drew its main following from a comparatively small section of industrial workers. Moscow's easy acceptance of Escalante's dismissal is evidence that the Russians rate Castro's political importance higher than that of any Communist faithful.

Today the leaders of Cuban power seem fairly evenly distributed. The Revolutionary Army is controlled by Raul Castro, Fidel's younger brother, who has the white, clenched face of a fanatic. He is considered political heir apparent, and has none of "Big Brother's" popular appeal. The ubiquitous security service G2, run by a staunch Fidelista minister of the Interior. The key National Agrarian Reform Institute, main instrument for Cuba's economic socialization, is headed by the PSP Communist closest to Castro, Carlos Rafael Rodriguez.

But the Argentine, Ernesto "Che" Guevara, a Castro lieutenant, is minister for industries. In general "Old Communists" run the propaganda machine.

Sacred Front

Cracks Appear

By JOHN WALSH from Montreal

THERE are already signs of cracks in the "solid front" which Social Credit national leader Robert Thompson has promised he will share with deputy leader Real Caouette.

The crack first became evident at a "little summit" meeting at Caouette's summer cottage near Rouyn. Since then, further strains have begun to appear.

Even while Mr. Thompson was quietly briefing newspapermen under the poplars at his cohort's lakefront lodge, Montreal newspapers carried an interview with Mr. Caouette that sounded a far more militant note.

"This is Real Caouette who is telling you, Diefenbaker will become a Sacred Front within six months or else an election awaits him," Mr. Caouette was quoted as saying.

"How are you going to get along with the Tories?" he was asked.

"We are not trying to get along with anyone but we will impose our ideas for greater good of Canada..."

"At the next session I will personally present a bill on the adoption of O Canada as our national anthem."

"I am ready to collaborate with the other provinces and will not abuse the strength which I now possess," Mr. Caouette was quoted.

"But as far as the flag and anthem are concerned, we are ready to force an election on these issues."

Neither the flag and anthem ultimatums nor the six-month figure was mentioned during the press conference in Rouyn.

Everywhere in Rouyn the question was: "Why did Thompson come to see Caouette if, as everyone says, Thompson is party chief?"

Caouette sits solidly in the driver's seat and knows it. The fiery 44-year-old Quebec leader is not a man who likes to play a secondary role.

Political observers looking into the source of strength of Social Credit in Quebec have found it springs from a considerably different level than in the West.

Both the Alberta and B.C. Sacred regimes are regarded widely as "good, conservative governments" (although Premier Bennett's flamboyance sometimes shakes this image in B.C.). Among the party's chief financial supporters in the West are business interests who regard the movement as a bulwark against socialism. This is especially true in B.C.

In Quebec, however, the party has caught on among small shopkeepers, farmers, tradesmen and workers, mainly in small town and rural areas. Most of its candidates came from the lower middle class.

Clearly, they comprise a disgruntled electorate, unhappy over the sweeping social reforms launched by Premier John Lesage, and frustrated over French Canada's secondary role in Confederation.

There is widespread belief the Social Credit party drew most of its votes from the ranks of those who had supported Union Nationale provincially.

One reason advanced for the election outcome was that the provincial Liberals failed to campaign for their federal candidates while the Union Nationale machine stood on the sidelines alone. It had worked for the Conservatives in 1958.

There is some belief that Social Credit in Quebec will become in effect the federal arm of the provincial Union Nationale.

Reborn Luftwaffe Poised for Action

By JOHN PINKERMAN

Buchel Luftwaffe Base in West Germany is the home of the hottest wing in the new German Air Force — a unit ready to strike at Communist targets with nuclear bombs. It is led by one of the great German aces of the Second World War.

Here amid the vineyards and grain fields along the Moselle River, about 25 miles southeast of Coblenz, the 33rd Fighter-Bomber Wing sits combat-ready, the first West German fliers to reach that goal.

The success in rebuilding a German Air Force without rebuilding any political or Nazi influence can be laid to 41-year-old Col. Walter Krupinski, commander of the 33rd.

Much has been said about confining West German military roles to defence. Krupinski, originally an East Prussian, has banished that idea.

"We would not hesitate to use nuclear weapons if ordered to do so," he has said. "Of course, our pilots would hope we would not be directed to use them against East Germany, for nearly every German has at least one relative there. But, our targets already are assigned and there is no problem about that factor."

Krupinski, with 1,200 missions and 197 kills, is the 13th ranking surviving ace of the Second World War and was one of the few Germans to pilot a jet in the fading days of the war. His new 33rd has a mixture of new, young men and Second World War veterans.

While rated as having a nuclear strike capability, the Germans do not have atomic weapons. These are in U.S.

stockpiles and will be made available only on direction of the U.S. president.

BACKGROUND

ABC of Dollar Crisis

Market Tug-of-War

WHEN a currency moves outside its own country, it achieves a different value.

For example, while the Canadian dollar will get you 100 cents anywhere in Canada, it will bring only 92½ cents in U.S. funds.

It's this difference in the values of various currencies that creates a foreign exchange market.

Corporations or persons go to the foreign exchange market in order to acquire the currency of a country where they want to make purchases or have obligations to meet.

Since the U.S. is Canada's biggest customer, our exchange dealings involve mainly the buying and selling of U.S. dollars in Canada.

Like the stock market, the exchange market is something of a tug-of-war. The buyer of a currency wants to get it at the lowest possible rate; the seller at the highest. Between the two the price is established.

The same people who buy U.S. dollars in one situation may be sellers in another. Speculators fit this category.

But importers are buyers of foreign currency and exporters are sellers. Tourists entering Canada support our dollar by buying it with U.S. funds. The opposite applies to Canadians travelling abroad.

Capital investment coming in pushes the Canadian dollar up. When investors pull out, they put Canadian dollars on the market and help depreciate them.

As with any other commodity, it's the law of supply and demand that determines the value of a currency. The market is established by matching the buy and sell orders that flow through the banks.

It's the same basic process that establishes the prices of stocks and bonds. Unlike stocks, however, money has no counterpart of the stock exchange, a central arena where buyer and seller "meet" at the trading post.

Supply and demand have dictated the wide swings in the Canadian dollar over the past three years. In 1959, it took $1.05 in U.S. funds to buy one Canadian dollar. Various economic factors since then have combined to lower the price of our currency—a lessening of U.S. interest in investment in Canada, for example. That's why today our dollar will bring only 92½ cents U.S.

By government decree it is fixed at this level but by agreement with the International Monetary Fund it is allowed to fluctuate about one cent either side. Where there has been an arbitrary fixing of a currency, the free play of supply and demand may be artificially supported by the central bank. In Canada, for instance, the Bank of Canada will support either side of the market to keep the dollar in its narrow permitted range.

Claustrophobic Berliners Wall-Neurotic

JOHN CROSBY Visits Page Five

BERLIN—A television drama from Hamburg about which Berliners are quite excited was a thinly disguised parody of the life of Walter Ulbricht, the unspeakable boss of East Germany, and the complications of living in a Communist police state. It was laced with bitter humor.

For instance, Ulbricht trying to find a rational Communist explanation why potato bugs should destroy the East German potato crop and coming up with the characteristic Communist theory that they were capitalist warmongers disguised as potato bugs.

The drama ends with Ulbricht's having himself walked into a room, while screaming about freedom.

Berliners are wall-conscious—you may say wall-neurotic. In fact, they exhibit all the classic symptoms of complete self-preoccupation of anyone

The infamous Berlin wall is by no means complete. In fact it is growing at the rate of about 300 feet daily. Here, an East German crane places heavy concrete blocks in gap of 10-foot wall on the Vacha, East German-Philippental, West German border, providing another unfortunate family with monotonous, unwanted "fence."

LETTERS to the Editor

To be considered for publication in whole or in part letters must be on subjects of general interest, not more than 300 words in length, and, if signed with a pen-name, must be accompanied by the writer's name and address.

Judging by the ridiculous lines allotted to the role of Sir James Douglas in the forthcoming pageant, and printed in the Colonist of June 26, centenary officials got what they deserved when they hired a foreign "expert" to write the script.

A historical pageant, such as this, should be approached with a nice sense of historical values, and be portrayed with dignity and sincerity, not turned into a roaring farce; it can be lively and interesting without this kind of treatment.

I am in favor of holding a pageant of Victoria's history, but feel that it should be done with good taste, and a proper respect for the subject. As it is at present, there is too much of a frivolous, "yippee" sort of atmosphere about it. Officials responsible for this affair would do well to think again, and have it changed.

Support Appreciated

In reply to our recent appeal for help in sending diabetic children to camp, we received the support of many members of our community. On behalf of the Victoria Branch of the Canadian Diabetic Association, I would like to express our thanks and appreciation to all those who so generously donated to this fund, and particularly to those who gave their time to go out and tag. These children who are going to attend this camp are eagerly looking forward to their holiday, and we of the executive, are most grateful for the support that has been given. They will not only enjoy the camp as a holiday, but will receive valuable training in the treatment of their own condition.

We sincerely hope that everyone who helped us with this project feels that it is worthy of their support.

Corresponding Secretary.

Full Employment

I recently received a pre-election publication in which the following sentence appears: "Canada's unemployment has consistently been twice what economists consider sound for a growing country." Any economist or politician should be ashamed of such a statement. Unemployment is always deplorable—often tragic. It should never, never be regarded as sound! In this connection, may I remind your readers that New Zealand is said to have full employment; so have several countries in Europe. Sweden and Western Germany, for example, actually bring in workers from other countries because they have more jobs than can be filled by their own nationals.

Why Not Sweeps?

"Help Fight Crises" is a banner headline. As a small help, why not government-controlled sweeps? These would create employment and stop millions of dollars going out of Canada.

It's about time some political group wised up the vote potential of a sweep scheme—believe me it would "sweep" the country.

Ants Capture Villages

CAIRO (Reuters)—The terrifying march of giant white ants continues to wreak havoc in lower Egypt. It was reported Thursday.

At least 10 villages in a remote area of Beheira province in the lush Nile delta region must be abandoned due to the invasion of ants. It was learned.

Many of the ants almost an inch long and are of the vicious "soldier" type. About 25 villages in the area are infested with the ants. They dig huge colonies to a depth of six feet below the ground and come out at night in the millions to devastate buildings.

An agriculture ministry expert said Thursday that in 10 of the villages infestation had reached the stage where nothing could be done but abandon them and have the people rebuild their homes elsewhere.

He said "millions and millions" of ants had established colonies under the villages and were eating all material containing cellulose—the organic structure contained in vegetable matter.

Houses collapsed because the ants had eaten the straw in the dwellings' bricks.

Village people are being badly bitten by the "soldier" ants. These attack as columns of "worker" ants stream through the villages and across the beds of sleeping people.

Sentence Suspended For Accepting Bribe

OTTAWA (CP)—Raymond Bruneau, 45, Thursday was found guilty of accepting a $10,000 bribe in 1956 while he was the Liberal member of Parliament for Gengary-Prentiss.

County Judge Frank Costello gave him a suspended sentence.

Bruneau was accused of accepting the money to use his influence in the government's purchase of property at Hawkenbury, Ont., for a post office site.

He pleaded not guilty, arguing that the money was a loan.

Judge Costello said it would be an insult to members of Parliament to impose a prison term on Bruneau as a deterrent. He ordered him to sign a bond to keep the peace for two years.

Remand Follows Guilty Plea

Gerald Brooks of Port Alberni pleaded guilty in city magistrate's court yesterday to a morals charge involving a 16-year-old girl.

Charges arose from events in Victoria in 1959. The accused man had since moved to Port Alberni, where he was sentenced recently to one year's imprisonment for theft.

Cutbacks in Public Works May Wipe Out Many Jobs

VANCOUVER (CP)—John McNevin, assistant secretary of the B.C. Federation of Labor, said Thursday federal government public works cutbacks could mean one of the worst unemployment problems in B.C. history.

"The government's decision will have a shattering effect," he said in commenting on the move announced in Ottawa to cut back on federal public works projects not already begun.

He felt private business would follow the government lead and cut back new construction.

At Victoria provincial Works Minister W. N. Chant agreed. "It certainly means there's going to be a cutback in building and business," he said.

The minister saw a planned $8,000,000 vocational school program being endangered.

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naras Plan.

If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. ## Meeting Criticism

Socreds Hold To Principles

QUEBEC (CP)—Social Credit members of Parliament ended their first party caucus Thursday with a statement reaffirming principles laid down last summer at the party's leadership convention.

"SEVERAL BRANDS"

The preamble said: "In view of the widespread interest in Social Credit since the election and also because of the criticism that there are several 'brands' of Social Credit thought, we, the newly-elected Social Credit members of Parliament hereby declare the following basic statements of principles and policies which undergird the movement."

The statement added the party believes in the importance of the individual and his rights. Because of this it was "unalterably opposed to Communist, Fascist and all forms of totalitarian government." Government had to serve the people. The statement then went on to list the measures Social Credit would take to stimulate free enterprise, establish financial reform and encouraging economic development of the country.

Pay-as-you-go government. Bank of Canada credit, municipal development bank, and lower taxes were among the main points.

The art of embalming started in Egypt around 3000 BC and became general about 1900 BC.

Early Rains Reduce Autorama Crowds

Rainy weather earlier this week has dampened attendance figures so far at this year's combined Autorama-Klondike Week at Victoria Curling Club, officials reported yesterday.

Dairy Drill Pays Off With Gusher

VERNON (CP)—A Vernon dairy which drilled for water to avoid increased water charges has hit pay-dirt—or pay water, water.

Officials of the Shuswap-Okanagan Dairy Industries Co-operative said Thursday their driller hit a gusher 352 feet down which is now supplying water at the rate of 300 gallons a minute.

Driller Frank Marks said the drill pipe apparently tapped an underground lake at least 56 feet deep and one of the biggest he knows of in B.C.

Temperature of the water is a cool 48 degrees.

two-night event, said Daryl Foster, an official of the Quarter Milers Club.

"We think tonight and Saturday will make up for the rainy spell—the attendance seems to be climbing now," he said last night.

Meanwhile, at the Victoria Lions Club's outdoor Klondike Week show, one of the most popular features on the midway is the "pie-in-the-eye" booth, where patrons can whomp a custard pie into the faces of selected targets.

"We've sold well over 250 pies so far, said Mr. Foster. Pies sell for prices ranging from 25 cents to $1, depending on the importance of the human target. Proceeds go to charity.

PEOPLE SAY

It was Navy Day yesterday, with shore patrolmen, cell block sentries and pay writers providing targets for enthusiastic sailors.

"People are surprisingly shy about tossing a pie in someone's face," said Mr. Foster.

Quarter Milers have their fingers crossed on final box office proceeds from the show. They hope to make enough to proceed with the first stage of construction of a $50,000 drag strip for custom car clubs throughout the Island.

No Danger to Parks, They Say

Miners Defend Rights

Mining officials yesterday were quick to defend their rights to establish mines within the boundaries of provincial parks.

Their defence followed a Colquhoun story which observed that a mining operation has started in Strathcona Park, near the shores of Butte Lake, and that further prospecting is being accelerated in the area.

ALL WILDERNESS

"There is no question about a wilderness area. The whole province is a wilderness area," said a B.C. mines official. "They are going crazy over these wilderness areas in North America."

He said that unless there is an income from natural resources, there won't be any money to develop the parks.

"Here is an area visited by only a dozen or so a year," he said, with reference to Western Mines Myra Creek claims.

WON'T HURT PARK

"A mine set back on the hills won't hurt the park," he argued. "Fifty years from now, nature will recapture the area. The life of the mine might not even be 50 years."

He described mining deposits as "like a plum or a raisin in a cake. When you find one you have to mine it."

He said there are millions and millions of acres of wilderness area, "but mines come only where they are found, areas where it is encouraging are not going to destroy it," he observed.

He explained that most miners and hunters. Prospectors love the outdoors. They are in good geological areas where it is encouraging are not going to destroy it," he observed.

Measles Vaccine Success

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Pediatricians were told Thursday that successful immunization of children against measles is now practical, but the vaccine cannot be made available to the public until possible side effects have been eliminated.

Dr. H. R. Brodie of Montreal, said successful immunization against measles, using a strain of measles virus of reduced virulence, now is possible. Unfortunately, he explained, the virus has not yet been weakened sufficiently to eliminate such reactions as short-term fever and other measles-like symptoms.

Canadians Sending Jaycees to Poorhouse

A brave try by the Seattle Junior Chamber of Commerce to cement friendship with Canada came to an end last week when the Chamber found itself facing serious financial losses.

The Seattle Jaycees are operating a World's Fair trading dollar which can be used as currency anywhere in the State of Washington. Many of these are in circulation and the Jaycees hope to make a profit on them through a reasonable percentage being kept as souvenirs and not redeemed.

With the Canadian dollar at a discount, the Jaycees decided that Canadian visitors to the fair should be allowed to purchase a limited number of the trading dollars at one dollar Canadian each.

The number was at first $10 per person, and later this was reduced to $5 per person.

All went well until it became public knowledge that the Jaycees were giving $1 in U.S. funds for a Canadian dollar when everyone else was giving only 50 cents.

The bargain was too good to miss and Canadians flocked to the booths where the trading dollars were being sold at such a rate that a harassed junior chamber had to call off the concession altogether.

A Jaycee member said that when the club made the concession for Canadians, it did so in the hope that sufficient dollars would be kept as souvenirs to make good the loss on exchange.

But it didn't work out that way. Canadians exchanged their dollars, spent them and then came back for more.

"One afternoon alone we lost $300 in dollar exchange," said a Jaycee spokesman.

The Canadian dollars were being presented not only by Canadians but by Americans holding Canadian dollars as well. "If we had not stopped we would have been ruined," he added.

So now Canadians visiting the fair have to make do with 90-cent dollars although the fair people are making no charge on payments made in silver—whether they are Canadian coins or not.

Bowlers' Shelter Wins No Friends

This triumph of hasty wartime architecture may put city in court before it offers shelter to lawn bowlers. Proprietor of Crystal Court motel finds highly offensive the old army hut which city moved onto bowling green at rear of Crystal Garden. His lawyer has advised city hall that action will be launched to quash building bylaw amendment which gave the city green light to move the structure into downtown area. Until this year bowlers occupied space in adjacent Crystal Garden, but lost clubrooms when a wax museum implemented an expansion project.—(Colonist photo.)

Costs Up—Also Known

Tourist Rates Vary But 'Piracy' Scarce

A visitor to Victoria this summer season can expect to pay more money than ever before for the use of bed and bath.

Even so, the price of a night's lodging varies so wildly in the city that anyone with enough interest to pick up a telephone can protect himself from inflated prices he's likely to find in a few places.

FACTS DISCLOSED

A review of accommodation available in the area yesterday brought these facts to light:

● A family of three people who are prepared to take the trouble can make a choice from units ranging all the way from $6 to $35 a day.

● In some cases, the difference in amenities between a $12 unit and a $20 unit exists only in the mind of the proprietor.

● If you look over motels and hotels that have much the same thing to offer, you'll find that a good view can cost you $8 a day.

LITTLE 'PIRACY'

While the so-called "base level" of prices being charged by local hostellers is up by about a dollar this year, there are few cases of tourist piracy being reported.

In previous years, no season was complete without complaints from irate visitors who found prices shooting up as the accommodations got scarce.

RATES KNOWN

The city's new Expo accommodation centre has gone far toward stopping this practice. Rates charged by local hotels and motels are kept on file there and anyone using the service knows exactly how much he is going to pay before he checks in.

In spite of incongruities—you pay less money for a room in the Empress than you pay for a smaller room about three blocks away—most visitors appear happy about the prices they are paying.

Relatives Seek John Peterson

Relatives in Sweden are anxious to get in touch with John Arthur Peterson. He is Canadian-born and believed to be 26 years old. Anyone knowing his present whereabouts is asked to call the Canadian Red Cross Society, 1046 Fort Street, EV 2-3159.

Car Crash Hurts Driver

A 21-year-old motorist was rushed to hospital with head and chest injuries suffered when his car hit a power pole on Rockland Avenue yesterday. Robert Taylor, Ste. 108, 1725 Beach Drive, was in satisfactory condition in Royal Jubilee Hospital last night.

Police said the car, which was travelling north on Rockland, struck a pole 60 feet from St. Francis Wood.

Holiday Closing

All provincial government offices will be closed Monday for the Dominion Day holiday. The Provincial Museum will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Man Shot Testing Rifle

DUNCAN—Fisherman Vincent Alek of Shell Beach was in good condition at King's Daughters' Hospital here last night after accidentally shooting himself in the left shoulder Wednesday.

Mr. Alek was "trying out a 22-calibre rifle" when the gun accidentally went off.

The rifle had been borrowed from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glori George of the Koksilah Reserve.

The accident was reported by his nephew, Willie George, who accompanied him on the shooting trip.

Newspaper Advertising Stimulates Buying

For families who do not need a full-size freezer, the refrigerator-freezer combination is a popular choice. The refrigerator freezer is a useful appliance when space is a problem—it performs two jobs, yet takes the kitchen space of a single unit.

NOW IS THE TIME TO TRADE IN YOUR PRESENT REFRIGERATOR FOR AN-UP-TO-DATE MODEL

If your refrigerator is an older one, it is perhaps not keeping up with your family's needs. Now is the right time to think about trading it in on a more convenient, more efficient, up-to-date model. Your appliance dealer can show you a variety of sizes and styles in both refrigerators and refrigerator-freezer combinations.

Check these features:

- Automatic defrosting in many models
- Shelf space better planned, more flexible
- Pull-out baskets and drawers, which can be carried to work counter or sink
- Swing-out or pull-out adjustable shelves
- Zero-zone section—a true freezing compartment—permits quick freezing and safe, long-term storage of frozen foods

There are many practical advantages to be gained by replacing an old refrigerator with a new model. Speak to your appliance dealer now about trading up to a larger-capacity refrigerator, or a refrigerator-freezer combination.

Ed Kostenuk Races Here

Add one more ace to the list of drivers ready to compete in Saturday night's Centennial 100 modified sportsmen car race at Western Speedway. Ed Kostenuk has entered.

ED KOSTENUK... drives again

The eye injury which cost the Victoria driver a chance to try and qualify for the Indianapolis 500 is completely healed, and Kostenuk will be here to drive an American entry in the 100. Then he will be off for the United States where he will drive his own Indianapolis-type car on the U.S. circuit with an eye to preparing for next year's Indianapolis.

An errant bird smashed Kostenuk's goggles at Indianapolis and for a while it was feared that he might lose the sight on an eye.

Kostenuk will have plenty of competition Saturday night. About 25 cars are expected to compete for the $1,200 prize money, and they will be driven by some of the Pacific Northwest's outstanding racers.

Also due to compete is Eldon Rasmussen, winner of the Def. 100 Cup race here last Labor Day, who is bringing his car from Hinton, Alta.

VIEWSON SPORT

By Red Smith

Baseball, it has been said, is the game of professional athletes and amateur statisticians. Something also has been said to the effect that it takes all kinds, et cetera. Mr. Foster Eaton is one kind.

Foster Eaton is an old St. Louis friend, a working newspaper stiff these many years and, along with Warren Giles, a worshipper at the altar of Stanley Frank Musial. Being president of the National League, Mr. Giles may be a little biased when he ranks Musial as "the greatest all-around ball player ever to wear a uniform," considering that characters like Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, and Joe DiMaggio played in that other league. When Foster Eaton agrees with him, though, he puts sentiment aside and argues with the unshakable authority of the mathematician, as will be seen.

About a month ago, Foster addressed this letter to Musial: "Dear Stan: You may recall that four years ago I wrote advising that when you reached the 3,000-hit plateau in your great baseball career you had hit the ball a combined distance of 116 miles, 3,395 feet.

"Yesterday when you tied Honus Wagner's National League record of 3,430 hits, you may be interested to know, you had hit the ball 132 miles, 2,990 feet.

"You will perhaps be more interested to know that 132 miles, 2,990 feet, is 12 miles, 1,890 feet, more than the 120 miles, 1,100 feet, Wagner banged the ball in making his 3,430 hits!

"And you will perhaps be even more interested to know that 132 miles, 2,990 feet, is 6 miles, 2,645 feet, farther than Tris Speaker walloped the ball in his 3,515 hits!

"For good measure, 132 miles, 2,990 feet, is only 11 miles, 2,520 feet less than Ty Cobb's 144 miles, 230 feet, amassed in making 4,191 hits to lead the all-time parade.

Taken Over Second Spot

"Therefore, in distance hit, you have long since taken over the all-time Number Two spot, ahead of both Wagner and Speaker, trailing only Cobb.

"All the above figures are based on average hit distances supplied to me by Mr. Paul Rickart, veteran statistician of the Sporting News, to whom I was referred by its publisher, Mr. J. G. Taylor Spink.

"Rickart gave me these estimated hit distances as logical average: Single—125 feet; double—300 feet; triple—400 feet; home run—350 feet.

"On that basis, here's how you figure:

"2,108 singles — 49 miles, 4,780 feet
699 doubles — 39 miles, 3,780 feet
174 triples — 13 miles, 960 feet
449 homers — 29 miles, 4,030 feet

add — 2 10,560—subtract

"Musial's mileage:

132 miles, 2,990 feet.

"So the all-time mileage parade now shapes up thus:

"Cobb—144 miles, 230 feet, on 4,191 hits.

"Musial—132 miles, 2,990 feet, on 3,430 hits.

"Speaker—126 miles, 345 feet, on 3,515 hits.

"Wagner—120 miles, 1,100 feet, on 3,430 hits."

Add 'Em Up Yourself

While Foster's letter was kicking around here, Musial was banging a few more across state and county lines, but anybody who wants the figures brought up to date will have to bring 'em up himself. This backward arithmetic pupil isn't even going to check the figures submitted.

The thought occurs that merely hitting a ball from here to Elkhart, Ind., is only part of Musial's job. He's also got to run off his hits and the fly balls and grounders that don't go safe. Well, a man who makes 2,108 singles, 699 doubles, 174 triples, and 449 home runs, has to leg it 99 miles, 1,440 feet, around the bases.

Musial made his 3,430th hit on his 10,292nd time at bat in the National League, so on 6,852 trips to the plate he went hitless. Subtracting his strikeouts and assuming that he sprinted the full 90 feet to first base every other time he was retired, he travelled 116 miles, 5,100 feet, running into putouts.

This means that as a batsman he ran 216 miles, 1,260 feet to reach Wagner's record. Of course, it took him more than 20 years to do it, so the time isn't brilliant.

Merchants Surprise; Gorge Bows Again

	W	L	Pct	GBL
Colts	10	4	.714	2 1/2
Imperials	8	6	.571	4 1/2
Merchants	7	7	.500	5 1/2
Seals	6	8	.429	6 1/2
NAVY	5	9	.357	7 1/2
Mariners	4	10	.286	8 1/2

Last night's score: Merchants 4, Gorge 2.

Next game tonight—Imperials vs. Merchants at 8:15, Hayward Park.

The monsters from Gorge Hotel are mortals after all. If you don't believe it, ask Merchants, who beat them 4-2, in the Heywood Softball League last night. Or better still, ask catcher Les Wilson of Gorge.

Wilson has been around softball for a long, long time, but it's doubtful that he ever spent a more nightmarish few minutes than in the first inning last night.

Merchants scored all their runs in the first, and Wilson's contributions were two run-scoring passed balls and two errors. Merchants got three singles and stole four bases in the rally.

In handing Gorge its second loss of the season, Merchants got four-hit pitching from Frank Bell and pulled off two double plays to help him over the rough spots.

Merchants' lineup: 1. Frank Bell, 2. Jim Wilson, 3. Les Wilson, 4. Les Wilson, 5. Les Wilson, 6. Les Wilson, 7. Les Wilson, 8. Les Wilson, 9. Les Wilson.

Aussie Netters Rule Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (CP)—The dominance of Australia in men's tennis was strikingly demonstrated Thursday in the third round of the Wimbledon singles event. Of 16 survivors, eight were Australians, including all that country's top-ranked stars.

Rod Laver, defending champion and top-seeded here, produced a fine brand of tennis to oust Whitney Reed, top-ranked in the U.S., 6-4, 6-1, 6-4.

Second-seeded Australian Roy Emerson put out fellow Australian Fred Stolle 6-4, 6-4, 6-0.

And third-seeded Neale Fraser topped Britain's Billy Knight 6-4, 16-14, 10-8.

Bob Hewitt, seeded eighth, defeated Bobby Wilson of Britain 2-6, 8-6, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Neale Fraser's brother, Dr. John Fraser, advanced when fourth-seeded Ramanathan Krishnan of India was forced to withdraw. He aggravated a leg injury suffered in a doubles match Wednesday. Fraser was ahead 5-2 when Krishnan withdrew.

Australian Martin Mulligan ousted Dennis Abbot of the U.S., 3-6, 9-7, 6-3, 2-6, 7-5.

Other Aussies in the last 16 are Bob Howe, who defeated P. N. Lal of India and Ken Fletcher, who downed Mike Hann of Britain.

Island Archery Meet Planned

Annual Vancouver Island Archery Association outdoor championships will be Sunday and Monday at Camp Cowell, south of Nanaimo.

Large turnout is expected from clubs in Victoria, Campbell River, Nanaimo, Ladysmith and Port Alberni.

Island Track Meet Saturday

There have been some memorable races run over the years in the Vancouver Island track and field championships, but officials are still confident that Saturday's meet will be the best yet.

For proof, they point to an entry list in the open events that includes former Olympic runners George Kerr of Jamaica and Lynn Eves of Victoria, plus members of Vancouver's top clubs and many outstanding city athletes.

To make the card even more palatable, the meet has been extended for the first time to take in junior events, which actually makes the competition not one meet, but two.

Junior meet will start at 1 p.m. at the Victoria High School track, with a total of 33 events.

That will clear the way for the open meet, which starts at 7 p.m. Only two juvenile races, the 100-yard and half mile, will be run in the evening.

Feature race of the night could well turn out to be a quarter-mile battle between Eves and Kerr, now both at Oregon State. Kerr, third behind Peter Snell and Roger Moen in the 800-metre final at the 1960 Olympics, has been clocked under 47 seconds on several occasions. Eves, going to the quarter seriously this year after previously concentrating on the dashes, has been clocked in 46.7.

Another familiar figure will be John Vallant of Victoria, a cross-country star at Vic High before going to Washington State on scholarship. Vallant will run the quarter or half mile, and perhaps in the relay.

Junior Tennis Singles Brotherly Competition

There was a real family affair in the under-16 boys' singles of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club's junior tournament yesterday.

Top-seeded Rod Harvey beat Geoff Field, and Field's brother Rich, second-seeded, beat Harvey's younger brother, Brian.

M and M Twins Back in Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York Yankees continued their climb toward their usual American League perch — first place.

Thursday at Yankee stadium, the Yanks M and M boys, Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle hit solo home runs to pace the team to a 4-2 decision over Minnesota Twins.

The Twins chipped in with a costly error in the loss that dropped them to fourth place in as many nights for the tall end Mets.

Gentle Thief Jailed To Solve Problems

Leonard Anderson, the "gentle burglar," was sentenced to a year's imprisonment yesterday—even though he had turned himself in to save an old lady's life.

He broke into the Glenahiel Hotel early in the morning of June 20. An elderly lady, awakened by his presence, burst into screams.

WAITED FOR POLICE

Anderson left and telephoned police from a pay phone to report what had happened. He said he was afraid the lady might suffer a heart attack.

He was waiting at the telephone when police arrived.

COMMENDABLE

Magistrate William Ostler said in city court that Anderson's action in calling police was "a very commendable thing."

"It's not the first time you have done the same thing," he said.

Indian Band Ballot Box Still on Way

KAMLOOPS (CP)—The votes of an Indian band—all 32 of them—are holding up the final complete count of the June 18 federal election voting in the big riding of Kamloops.

Returning officer Mrs. Helen J. Milward said Thursday repeated attempts have been made to get the missing poll from Nemah in the Chilcotin country. All that can be determined is that it's coming via Williams Lake.

Kamloops is the riding where Justice Minister Fulton was elected.

Costly Art Has Bonus On Its Back

LONDON (AP)—A London art dealer Thursday paid $25,500 ($300,000) for a Michelangelo drawing, Christ Before Pilate, auctioned by Sothebys of London. On its back were two fragments of a love sonnet in the master's handwriting.

Top-Rank Loggers Compete July 21

Top-ranking loggers from B.C., Washington and Oregon will once again test each other's skills in the 28th All-Sooke Day logging sports classic July 21.

Virtually every form of logging sport will be on the program, including such crowd-pleasing events as high-rigging, log-birling and jousting, square timber-cutting, axe-throwing and hand and power saw log-bucking.

A usually hotly-contested event is the tug-of-war competition for The Daily Colonist Trophy.

TRADITIONAL DISHES
Spectators watching loggers hard at work work up good appetites, and organizers will have on hand plenty of the traditional barbecued beef and salmon and clam chowder, as well as the more conventional hot dogs and hamburgers.

Think Before You Drown

More and more "drowning equipment" — air mattresses, surfboards, face masks, and kickboards — is sold every year. Too many people think of these devices as a short cut to learning how to swim, to being "safe" in the water. But here are the facts, in July Reader's Digest, tragic facts every parent should read before vacation time. Get July Reader's Digest today — 39 articles of lasting interest.

Two Imprisoned On Forgery Count

Walter Brunelle and Leslie Miller, no fixed address, were sentenced to two years each in the British Columbia penitentiary when they pleaded guilty yesterday to passing some $1,200 in forged cheques at Victoria supermarkets.

Two other men, charged jointly with them, have pleaded not guilty and have elected trial before a magistrate.

They are Thomas Gordon and Ronald Owen McLeellan, alias Raymond Jones. Gordon and McLeellan are scheduled to appear for trial next Thursday before Magistrate William Ostler.

The Crown alleges that Gordon and McLeellan passed four forged cheques in Saanich, two in Oak Bay and two in the city.

For drivers who CARE about cars Make it a habit to add a shot or two of Rislone to prevent or cure engine trouble

A car gets in the blood of some drivers. You'll see them in neighborhood after neighborhood, checking under the hood to learn the wonders of an automobile engine first hand.

These folks have formed a good habit early in life. A car is something to care for. And Rislone is one product that helps them keep their automobiles operating at peak power. Rislone is not a cure-all. Used regularly however, it can help prevent or even cure many engine troubles encountered by drivers. Rislone dissolves engine gum and sludge deposits, frees sticky valves, restores lost compression. So join the drivers who have the Rislone habit to prevent or cure engine trouble. Rislone is a good car care habit.

FREE "CHECK ENGINE" GUIDE

THEY GET EXPENSIVE

An automotive expert has prepared the Rislone "Check Engine" Guide. This one for 80 to 100¢ of the engine problem. It is based on its recommendations. Where overhaul, parts replacement or mechanic's counsel is required, it is so recommended. In many instances nothing more than a shot or two of Rislone or 5-200 is called for to help restore peak power and controlling performance. Every driver will want to have a copy of the "Check Engine" Guide to hang in his garage or basement. To get your copy, send name and address to The Rislone Company, Dept. C38-C, Waukegan, Wisconsin. ## Plane Repair Job Brought to Door Business was delivered practically to the doorstep of Fairley Aviation Ltd. the other day.

The firm's plant at Patricia Bay will be given the job of rebuilding an RCAF Neptune patrol bomber which overshot the runway Monday and crashed nearby.

DELICATE GEAR

The anti-submarine bomber's three-man crew escaped injury but the crash caused heavy damage to the aircraft and delicate radar equipment in its belly.

An RCAF spokesman said that the Neptune was en route here for minor modifications by Fairley Aviation.

"The aircraft was handed over to Fairley the day after the crash to prepare the cost estimate, which will have to be approved before repairs are made," said the air force spokesman.

INVESTIGATING

In the meantime, Sqdn. Ldr. A. S. Pelian, staff training officer of 5 Air Division headquarters in Victoria, was assigned to investigate the cause of Monday's crash. His report was not yet completed, said the spokesman.

A Fairley Aviation official said yesterday that an estimate of damage will take about three weeks to prepare.

False Claims Net Jail Term

William Hollinger, 2813 Leigh Road, Langford, father of 11 children, was sentenced to 25 days in jail yesterday for cheating the Unemployment Insurance Commission of $61.

Magistrate William Ostler found him guilty of five charges of falsifying unemployment insurance claims by concealing some of his earnings in January and February.

The magistrate pointed out that Hollinger's family had been supported largely by welfare payments for some years. "You are biting the hand that feeds you," he said.

City Police Tackle Judo Course in Fall

Victoria city police will begin a course of instruction in judo this fall.

Victoria police commission Wednesday authorized the purchase of eight judo mats at $19.50 each, to be used in helping police grapple with wrongdoers.

SIMILAR TRAINING

Instructor will be Y. "Lank" Inouye, Japanese-Canadian black belt judo expert in the Royal Canadian Navy.

Oak Bay's 13-man force and all but two of Esquimalt's 15-member force have already undergone similar training.

Esquimalt policemen took their course from the same naval instructor. It is a course that emphasizes defensive holds.

Oak Bay police took a course called "defendo" from an army provost corps instructor.

ONE CASUALTY

In all the training program so far there has been only one casualty—Cpl. Jack Groves of Oak Bay police, who suffered a slipped disc in his back when he tried to catch a 200-pound falling comrade during a "defendo" workout last May. However, observes Oak Bay Police Chief Robert Smith, the gymnasium workout may not have been the sole cause of the injury which sidelined Cpl. Groves for several weeks.

On the afternoon of the same day, Cpl. Groves pulled for a police team in a tug-of-war, and his injury may have been partly caused by a wrench suffered then.

"I know of a lady who got a slipped disc because she sneezed," commented Chief Smith. "Somebody else slips a disc during a spell of seasickness. Don't blame defendo for it."

"Defendo may save a policeman's life—but it's the kind of thing you carry around until you need it—like a gun or a college degree."

Park Opens To Holiday Celebrations

A three-day celebration is planned for the official summer opening of Kinsmen Gorge Park starting at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Saturday's program will include a milt show at 10 a.m.; treasure hunt, 1.30 p.m.; a judo exhibition at 2.30 p.m.; and special pony rides.

Sunday, a family picnic will be held, a water skiing exhibition at 2.30 p.m. and a band concert at 3.30 p.m.

A square dancing exhibition will highlight the Monday program, along with a band concert at 2 p.m.

Since the park opened in 1956 at a cost of $65,000, an additional $30,000 has been spent on improvements.

It has the largest saltwater swimming pool in North America.

Presently the Kinsmen Club is restoring the Japanese tea house, well-known attraction on the Gorge before the Second World War.

Business Keeps Pace with Growing Oak Bay Marina

First stage of the Oak Bay Marina development, construction of float facilities for some 400 pleasure craft, expected to be completed in a week, is already doing a brisk business, with higher than 70 per cent occupancy, marina manager Bob Wright said yesterday. About $50,000 has been spent to date on the $400,000 project, which will be completed in three stages. Next step will be to install lighting, power and water lines in the next 10 days. Fueling facilities and boathouses will be built by fall. Construction of marina buildings will start this winter. (Bill Boucher photo.)

Works Cutbacks Threat to Jobs This Winter

Widespread unemployment could hit Greater Victoria this winter through the federal government's decision to halt millions of dollars worth of projects, a city labor official predicted yesterday.

Scurrah Saddened By Delay

Former mayor Percy Scurrah, who fought for five years to have a new terminal built at Patricia Bay airport, looks on the federal government's decision to suspend the buildings as just one more in a long series of heart-breaking delays. "It is most disappointing because we have worked on it for a long time," he said. "There are other parts of the country that have new terminals that didn't need them as much as we did."

PROMISED—PROMISED

"It is just one more delay that we have had over the years. The terminal was promised and promised and promised and then the treasury board would not pass it, and then they changed the design and it all took time and the architects in Ottawa were slow so they decided to give our architects here a chance."

NOT FANT ENOUGH

Mayor Scurrah said further delay in construction of the terminal—birds were expected to be called at the end of this month—had to be accepted for the good of Canada.

But he had criticism for the federal government for not moving soon enough to head off the need for the present austerity program.

ROSY—THEN MESS

"The government should have taken some measures two or three years ago, instead of leaving it to the last minute," he said.

"Everything was rosy before the election and everything was a mess after."

Mayor R. B. Wilson also said yesterday that the economic health of Canada must come before construction of the terminal.

CITY'S SHARE

"If the country must sacrifice then Victoria must be willing to do its share," he said.

"I would not think Victoria would enter a special plea to have the terminal built, anyway. We have to think of the country first for a while."

At Last A Mall—Maybe

Almost five years after the first pedestrian mall was suggested for Victoria the city will actually get one—for a few days—if city council agrees.

Victoria Centennial Society yesterday applied to council for permission to block off Broad Street, between Fort and Broughton Streets, from July 27 to Aug. 4.

JAYCEE PROJECT

Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce has been asked to take over construction of the one-block mall which will feature a host of entertainments in conjunction with the centennial pageant.

Entertainment plans have not been completed, a spokesman for the centennial society said yesterday, but will include groups from neighboring cities, local ethnic displays and dancing and fashion shows.

BEFORE COUNCIL

The request will likely be considered by city council at its meeting this afternoon.

City Donates $8 to Charity In Your Behalf

By TED SHACKLEFORD

Whether he wants to support them or not, the average city homeowner will donate some $8 this year to various charities and organizations—and it could go higher.

This is Mr. Homeowner's share of the $162,000 city council has budgeted to give away in lump sums ranging from $50 to $50,000.

Of course, Mr. Average Homeowner pays taxes only on a $4,600 assessment. Taxpayers with higher assessments will pay more.

On top of that, some of the same organizations will knock at his door seeking donations or will stop him in the street to sell him a tag.

Of course, Mr. Average Homeowner pays taxes only on a $4,600 assessment. Taxpayers with higher assessments will pay more.

Not all charities. The total of $162,000 is considerably above the $23,000 yearly which voters agreed in 1953 should go to charities, but not all the recipients come strictly under the heading of charities.

Biggest grant of them all—$50,000—goes to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

Other grants primarily for tourism include $6,250 toward the cost of a publicity booth in Seattle during the period of the Seattle World's Fair, $2,553 toward the operating costs of the Expo-Lodging accommodation bureau in Victoria and $2,500 given to Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Not all the grants being given by city council this year are annual grants—some of them are this year's installment on a larger, overall grant.

The $25,000 for the Victoria University Development Fund is the third of five equal grants pledged to the appeal.

First instalment. Another $25,000 to the St. Joseph's Hospital building appeal is the first instalment on a pledge of some $125,000, and the $15,000 toward the Salvation Army's Matson-Sunnet Lodge fund is the second of three similar amounts.

Royal Jubilee Hospital will be given $4,178—second of five payments toward construction of a new psychiatric unit.

And $1,545 for the St. John Ambulance Brigade is the second of three grants to total $4,640.

The St. John Ambulance Brigade belongs to the Greater Victoria Community Chest, together with three other groups which receive grants from the city—YMCA, YWCA and the Victorian Order of Nurses.

Blind Stand Is Gyped

Two mercury-coated one-cent pieces were passed as dimes at the Canadian National Institute for the Blind confectionery stand at the Belmont Building, police were told yesterday.

Voices from Saanich

Garbage Truck? Never Saw One

About half the residents of Saanich want more frequent garbage collection but some residents aren't getting service at all, a Colonist spot check survey indicated last night.

A shift to weekly pickup mooted earlier this year has developed into a recommendation to Saanich council by its health and welfare committee that next year's council implement the proposal.

But half the residents reached by the Colonist would like to see stepped-up collection this summer and were prepared to foot the additional cost estimated at about $1 a month.

The survey showed that not all Saanich garbage gets to the dump.

Residents burn it, bury it, stack it up in compost heaps, let it pile up in back yards, haul it away themselves, feed it to livestock, watch the rats devour it and try to ignore its pungent smell and the clouds of flies it brings.

Large families have the worst problem.

Saanich's garbage collection system, let out by contract, permits each household only two garbage cans which are supposed to be emptied every two weeks.

Several residents last night complained that collection is sporadic and others say they never see a garbage truck.

H. G. McWILLIAMS ... desirable move

No Pickups for Months

One woman didn't seem to realize there is a Saanich garbage collection.

"Who's going to pick up our garbage?" asked Mrs. Ronald McCracken of the reporter who asked her how she found the service.

She said no garbage had been picked up since she moved into a home at 6103 Patricia Bay Highway two months ago.

"We do have a garbage can here but nobody comes to pick it up." In the meantime, "heaps of tin cans" found on the premises when they moved in are growing larger, she said.

Said Mrs. David Nunn, 4634 West Saanich Road: "Weekly

service is a wonderful idea: I would pay $1 per month for it. The man comes around sometimes in two weeks and sometimes three weeks. If he has trouble with the truck, it's three or four weeks."

"When he doesn't come for three weeks, the garbage can gets so full you can't shut the lid, and I've seen rats run out of the can when it's like this."

Philip Gibbons, 4996 West Saanich Road: "I'm so far off the beaten path that I haven't had garbage collection. I bury it or burn it. If I have something not combustible I put it in a can and flag down the truck or phone them to pick it up."

Airful in the Summer

Mrs. Irene Scott, 3884 Wilkinson: "I think it's horrible. It's not bad during the winter months but we find it awful in the summer. By the time two weeks come around, it smells and it's overflowing. And it causes flies."

"I used to have two cans but one got a small hole in the bottom and the garbage man ripped the bottom out and left the can upside down in the driveway so I'd have to get a new one. Now I use just one long."

Scraps to Chickens

"We burn all combustibles, put vegetable scraps in the compost heap, give meat scraps to the chickens and just put cans and bottles in the one garbage can."

Mrs. Leonard Thomas, 3401 Quadra: "Service was all right when it was regular. But I'm quite certain it's gone three and four weeks in the past three months."

"Usually our can was not full. We use a lot of frozen foods and burn the boxes, and I also have cans one into another. But in three weeks the can will overflow."

Mrs. Patricia Sutton, 4823 Cordova Bay Road: "I'm for weekly service, particularly in the summer when the garbage is more likely to smell and has something to do with the number of flies around the house."

Mrs. Elizabeth Owen, 4581 Cordova Bay: "I'm in favor of the service staying the way it is. I find that once every two weeks just gets us by."

Mrs. Fred Polson, 5024 Patricia Bay: "Every two weeks is okay with us because we don't have much. We don't have much canned goods; we grow our own vegetables and keep them in a deep freeze. We burn rubbish in a coal-wood furnace."

Grim State of Austerity Unfurls New Colors

Peter Bruton's NOTEBOOK

A NATION'S ILLS: A spy reports that the Red Ensign flying above the Belmont Building was upside down Wednesday.

The Belmont Building of course houses the local offices of the federal income tax department.

And a flag upside down is a sign of distress.

Maybe the situation is indeed worse than we think?

WORM'S EYE VIEW: Fisherman Jimmy Rowe, along with a lot of other anglers, has been having difficulty securing a steady supply of worms.

The other day he put his grandson to work and the youngster managed to unearth quite a few worms.

They put them in with some moist moss to keep them fresh and placed the can just inside the garage door.

Now Jimmy and his grandson are looking for more.

The crows came down and ate the worms!

SUDS AND SKITS: Newsman Larry Rose and his wife went into a beer parlor in New Westminster the other day when Larry found all he had was a $5 U.S. bill.

He ordered two beers and tendered the American money. The bartender shook his head and gave Larry back a Canadian $5 bill.

The exchange, you see, paid for the beer.

Incidentally, the bartender was Jack Mondak.

WRONG SIDE OF TRACKS: Worthily of passing mention is the fact that while workmen are doing their best to beautify Douglas Street the condition of the roadside on the other side of the E and N tracks is shocking.

Weeds, tall grass and thistles abound.

It's high time whoever is responsible did something about it—before the Douglas Street beautification is finished!

THE THINGS WE HEAR: The Empress Hotel has been getting some unexpected guests as a result of American tourists rebelling at the rates charged by some city motels.

Empress manager Cyril Chapman told us the other day that this year will be the bumper one for the tourist industry anyway... the big thing, therefore, is to make tourists feel they are welcome so they will come back in future years.

Sound thinking.

AROUND TOWN: Victoria's Dick McVoy has opened the Soho Club at the Shelbourne shopping plaza. It now occupies those fancy premises originally destined for a B.C. government liquor store until the "drys" put the kibosh on the idea!

Jaycee president Eric Charman would like to see a big conference of Vancouver Island tourist people late this year to plan some proper program to keep the industry thriving after this year's upsurge.

Don Anderson is doing his best to lure us into being a target for the castard pie throwing contest at the Centennial Autodrome. We'll settle by giving the Victoria Lions some publicity. It's a wonderful show, yes!

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: The letter signed "No Doctor in the House" burned me up. So the church was packed, was it, and when someone in the crowd fainted not a single doctor was present to administer aid to the stricken. The writer facetiously suggested it was safer for a person with a weak heart to go to the country club and play golf on Sunday than to attend church services, since the country club was where all the doctors could be found.

My husband is a physician. He would love to attend church but he had to give it up.

When we moved to this community several years ago we started out by attending church services regularly. And then it began—the line-up on the church steps and in the vestibule. People moved into our pew, they collared him on the way out and waited at the curb beside our car.

"It's my shoulder, Doctor. I can hardly move my arm. Do you think it's bursitis or did I pull a ligament when I painted the garage?"

"I hate to bother you, Doctor, but this little mole on Edgar's cheek seems to be getting bigger. Does it look like anything serious?"

"Doc, I don't want to take your time in the office but I've had this dry cough for months. Can you suggest a cough syrup that will help?"

The final straw came when, during the singing of a hymn, a woman moved next to my husband with her child and asked him to look in the girl's throat and decide if she should have her tonsils removed.

That was six years ago and he hasn't been back to church since—IN SYMPATHY.

Dear Ann Landers: This is the first time I've been moved to write to a newspaper. That letter signed "No Doctor in the House" did it.

May I respectfully suggest that there may have been a dozen doctors in the house but they may have been too smart to make their presence known?

There have been many cases where physicians have rushed to the aid of someone who had fainted or been injured. Then what happened? The patient died and the family sued the well-meaning physician for malpractice. A plumber would not hazard a guess concerning which faucet is leaking simply by standing outside the house. So why should a physician be expected to make a diagnosis and prescribe treatment when, if he is wrong, it could mean the end of his practice?—DALLAS READER.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm an R.N. who is married to a physician. May I give you readers an inside story?

Sunday my husband came home from church disgusted. He said "I'm through attending services. This morning the minister was interrupted twice to call me to the telephone. Last Sunday I was called out, and the Sunday before that I hadn't even sat down before an usher hand me an emergency message."

Would you like to know the nature of the last "emergency"? A woman was passing through town and her doctor in Houston asked her to phone and to say hello.

The "emergency" before that involved a woman who had a headache. She wanted to know whether to take a sleeping pill or pain-killer.

Now he says he is through with Sunday services. Do you blame him?—INSIDE STORY.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 10 years old. My daddy is a doctor. He has to get out of bed almost every night to take care of some sick person. The only time he can catch up on his sleep is Sunday morning.

My daddy is a good man and he needs his rest. Mom says God knows everything, so he will surely forgive my daddy for not going to church on Sunday morning.—ELLEN.

Mrs. D. O'Brien, 1239 Colville Road, and Mr. J. O'Brien of Victoria announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Rose-Marie, to Mr. Michael Shaun Hines, only son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Hines of New York. The wedding will take place in New York on September 8.—(Photo by Liberty Art Studio, Richmond Hill, N.Y.)

Colonist King Fisherman contest hidden weight winners Jean and Garry Freer spent a delightful weekend as guests of Painter's Lodge. Here they

King Fisherman

Winner Lands Her First Salmon

By ALEC MERRIMAN

Special guests at Painter's Lodge last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Garry Freer, 581 Judah, who won their weekend vacation at the plush fishing resort as a hidden weight prize in the Colonist King Fisherman contest.

"It was wonderful. We have never been fed so well. The meals were terrific. We had a nice room in the lodge overlooking the swimming pool and we had a just beautiful weekend," said an excited Jean Freer on her return.

They went salmon fishing the night they arrived and hit into a doubleheader—two fish on the line at the same time—and although she was so excited she nearly lost her fish, Mrs. Freer did land the first salmon she had ever hooked.

They had both the coho salmon frozen and brought them back to Victoria.

"It was a wonderful experience. We had never stayed in a place like that. It was a sportsman's paradise," they said.

Campbell River fishing guide Trevor James and a comfortable and big aluminum boat were assigned to them for the weekend and they cruised all the Campbell River salmon waters, including a side trip to Marina Island where they stopped to eat their basket lunches which had been prepared at the lodge.

Mr. Freer, an enthusiastic freshwater fisherman, tried his hand in the new "fly-fishing-only" stretch of the Campbell River, but didn't manage to hook into a trout, although when he took his spinning tackle closer to the mouth of the river, and out of the restricted tackle area, he did manage to hook into a cutthroat.

Your Secrets Revealed By Breakfast Tastes

By NORA W. MARTIN

PARIS (TNS)—The thought of bacon and eggs for breakfast makes Frenchmen shudder, just as hot chocolate taken first thing in the morning sounds a bit thick to Americans.

Returning to Paris from England, I once again realized that breakfast is food . . . for thought. We may not often be able to choose our menus for lunch and dinner, but for breakfast most people can suit their individual fancies.

A French magazine recently made a survey on "breakfast habits and the psycho-analytical implications." Breakfast it seems, is as revealing of one's character as are the lines in the palm of the hand, reflecting not only a person's taste but also his or her obsessions, frustrations and aspirations. According to a French breakfast expert, "black coffee is liked by intellectuals, ham and eggs point to virility and hot chocolate can be a sign of super femininity."

The jump from England to France has made me breakfast conscious and, joining in the latest game in Paris, I sought answers to the loaded question: what do you eat first thing in the morning?

The answers I collected may reveal these people's tastes, their characters, their libidos or perhaps just the talents or nationality of their cooks.

President Charles de Gaulle's breakfast consists of cafe-au-lait, two slices of bread cut from a French loaf and eaten with butter and jam. His time for this simple meal is 6:30 a.m.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt once told me she starts the day with vitamin tablets, followed by chocolate-coated garlic pills to fortify the memory.

Pablo Picasso, the famous painter, skips breakfast altogether but brews himself a cup of strong coffee at noon in the kitchen of his country house in the South of France.

The aged, leading French novelist Andre Maurois gets up early and hungry. A pint of milk and a hearty sandwich is his first fare at six in the morning.

Writer Francoise Sagan starts the day with lemon tea and black-tobacco French cigarette, taken in bed around 10 a.m.

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS

—By Byrne Hope Sanders

TORONTO, June 28th—Why wish you were there . . . when you could be? If you are hesitating about the cost of that "dream" vacation, there's good news for you at the BANK OF MONTREAL. The B of M Family Finance Plan can supply the ready cash to take the worry out of your vacation plans.

A low-cost, life-insured FFP loan is the perfect way to get the things you want now and pay for them later by convenient monthly instalments suited to your pocketbook. So don't hesitate a minute—see the people at your neighbourhood B of M branch, and you'll be on your way come vacation time.

A DELICIOUS DISH FOR A RAINY SUMMER DAY . . . in fact, good all year 'round! . . . piping hot German Kraut made with the best-tasting sauerkraut I know . . . LIBBY'S SAUER-KRAUT. Here's how:

German Kraut
1 1/2 lbs. can Libby's Sauerkraut, 1 large onion (or butter, 2 cups boiling water, 1 tsp. caraway seeds, 1 large potato. Place sauerkraut, water, onion (or butter) and caraway seeds in saucepan. Boil rapidly until most of the water is evaporated. Peel and grate potato and add to sauerkraut. Cover and simmer until potato is cooked, 4 servings.

Easy to cook, wonderfully versatile, Libby's Sauerkraut is low in cost and high in appetite appeal . . . no wonder 9 out of 10 cans of sauerkraut sold in Canada come from Libby's modern kitchens!

RIGHT AT YOUR FINGERTIPS! . . . I'll wager that right now, handy on your spice shelf, you have one of the world's greatest condiments—dry mustard. With a history as ancient as that of salt and pepper, dry mustard is even more versatile. There's hardly a food you've tasted that can't be made better by a dash of mustard. Just remember, the key word is "dash," not "disguise!"

and you'll create dishes fit for the fussiest family! Diabets with dash! . . . So don't be a slay . . . season! I always use COLMAN'S DRY MUSTARD . . . full strength and unsurpassed in quality, you'll find that recipes calling for dry mustard are usually based on the uniform strength of Colman's. I must confess that I have recently been doing a good deal of "cooking" research on dry mustard and in my next column I'll have some exciting ideas which YOU can use to very real advantage!

DIETERS! LOOKING FOR MORE FLAVOUR PER CALORIE IN YOUR SALADS? Try those marvellous new calorie-reduced dressings from Wish-Bone! Calorie Count French Style and Calorie Count Italian Dressings—so delicious, and only 2 calories per teaspoon in the Italian and only 4 per teaspoon in the French. How do they do it? Finer ingredients, better recipes. WISH-BONE CALORIE COUNT DRESSINGS haven't sacrificed any of the famous Wish-Bone flavour to cut down on calories. Well . . . see for yourself. Buy new Wish-Bone Calorie Count French Style and Italian Dressings next time you shop.

EVEN ON THE HOTTEST "DOG DAYS" of summer, you'll feel much less like "barking" after the soothing luxury of a CALGON BOUQUET bath, an inexpensive luxury, I might add! You see, Calgon Bouquet is the delightful bath powder that makes your bath-water silky-soft . . . and both water and soap rinse away cleanly . . . no sticky feeling . . . no bathtub "ring." So take my tip . . . when the heat threatens to get you down, do try the morale-booster of a bath scented and conditioned with Calgon Bouquet. You'll feel fresh-as-a-daisy and you'll look that way, too.

Helmets To Glean Again

A new white paint job for battered police motorcycle crash helmets was approved by city police commission Wednesday.

But motorcycle patrolmen may have to wait some time for helmet badges.

Police union asked the commission yesterday for both paint and badges, to smarten up motorcycle headgear for Victoria's centenary.

Police Chief John Blackstock said that no suitable design for a cap badge had yet been found. The commission decided to ask the union for ideas.

Scots, U.S. School Band Impress at Butchart's

By BERT BUNNY

There was a large bonus in entertainment for those visiting the Butchart Gardens Wednesday evening.

The scheduled appearance of the pipes and drums of the Canadian Scottish Regiment at 8:30 p.m. as always provided one of the most impressive performances of the season. And this was preceded by an hour-long concert from the Longmont H.S. School dance band, all the way from Colorado.

Composed of students from Grade 9 to 12, this is a most accomplished band. They are just about all instrumental soloists in their own right.

Will Austerity Kill Fitness Campaign?

Fears that a national $5,000,000 physical fitness program will be killed through Canada's austerity drive were expressed yesterday by Education Minister Leslie Peterson.

"We fear... we may lose it," he said.

The B.C. government was to have been given $240,000 under a federal provincial agreement which has not yet been signed.

"We have already employed some staff and an advisory committee is making a survey to see how the money can best be spent," he said.

Cruiser Carries Weapons Of Ancient Wars, Atom Age

The cruiser Royalist — believed to be the first New Zealand warship to pay a courtesy call here — will help the Royal Canadian Navy mark Navy Week when she calls at Esquimalt Aug. 9 to 11.

The improved Dido class cruiser is the flagship of the New Zealand navy and has been extensively refitted and equipped with modern weapons and devices.

But along with her missile-age armament, the Royalist will carry weapons of war strange to this coast. Ancient Maori greenstone implements of war, in addition to fine examples of Maori wood carving, loaned by the Auckland War Memorial Museum, will be on display when the ship calls here.

SALUTING BATTERY

The Royalist will call at Apia, en route to Victoria to present a saluting battery to Western Samoa, new Pacific nation which became independent Jan. 1.

The ship will also pay a goodwill call to Vancouver Aug. 14 to 20.

New Zealand's Defence Minister Dean Eyre says the call will repay several visits in recent years by Canadian warships to New Zealand ports.

FIRST MISSION

He says he does not believe a New Zealand warship has ever previously visited Canada on a goodwill mission. States west coast ports and After the Canadian visit the will carry out exercises with Royalist will call at United American warships.

Hope Flickers in Congo

By MAX HARRISON

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — After two years of costly and often frustrating efforts, the United Nations appears to be turning the corner in its quest for peace and stability in the Congo.

UN diplomats generally concur in the view of acting Secretary-General U Thant that substantial progress has been made toward political unity as the African nation nears the start of its third year of independence from Belgium.

They also say the task is far from completed, that it may be years before the Congolese can govern themselves without outside guidance.

However, this week's breakdown in the Congo-Katanga talks, aimed at ending Katanga Province's secession from the rest of the Congo, is regarded by officials here as temporary. In all, the Congo problem has ceased to have the urgency at UN headquarters that marked the final months of 1960 and the entire year 1961.

Thant, in a recent appraisal, said he believed it would be generally conceded that the United Nations had played a significant role in preserving the sovereignty, independence and unity of the Congo. He recalled that a year ago "practically two-thirds of the country was outside the control of the central government and in fact we had no legitimate central government to deal with."

Thant added:

"Today we have a legally constituted central government under the leadership of Prime Minister Adoula, and we have only one province out of six still striving to maintain some form of separate identity."

The Congo operation has cost approximately $230,000,000. The secretary-general seems resigned to large-scale expenditures in the Congo. He says he has not even considered a reduction in the UN forces.

Solid, Man

CONCORD, N.C. (AP) — "Two tombstones for sale, in excellent condition, $800 each."

The classified ad, which appeared in the Concord Tribune, was a typographical error.

Mrs. D. J. Faggart said she intended selling two tombstones. She said she got a lot of replies and could have sold the tombstones if she had them.

Honeymoon Over For Bank Clerk

INVERMERE, B.C. — A young Alberta bank employee who took time out from his honeymoon to defraud a bank here of $7,000 was sentenced Thursday to a prison term of two years definite and two years indefinite.

Prosecutor William Dornan, a corporal in the RCMP here, said Bosch used a "bank settlement form" for the fraud. The form was made out for $8,000 and Bosch took $7,000 in cash.

Cpl. Dornan said the form was normally used for transfer of funds between branches of banks or between banks. With the form Bosch used a guarantee card which was rubber-stamped to guarantee the signatures as genuine.

He had $6,350 of the money

Princess Royal Sails

QUEBEC (CP)—The Princess Royal sailed for England Thursday night after a 15-day visit to Canada.

Before being taken by tender to the Empress of England, she reviewed a band of honor of the Royal 22nd Regiment while a 21-gun salute echoed over the ancient battlements of the Citadel.

Several hundred Quebecers lined the Esplanade and the waterfront to cheer the 65-year-old princess.

Thursday she toured the nearby Ile d'Orleans, stopping at the village of St. Francois where she visited a Roman Catholic Church built in 1734.

Dog Saves Young Master

Two close friends show their fondness for each other after Boxer Pup-Pup killed a rattlesnake which had threatened its master, David Gamble, 3, of Chattanooga, Tenn. The dog barely survived three snakebites.

Market Talks Stalled

BRUSSELS (CP-Reuters)—Edward Heath, Britain's chief negotiator for entry into the European Common Market, was reported Thursday to have made no notable progress in obtaining Common Market guarantees for Canadian, Australian and New Zealand farm exports.

Heath, deputy foreign secretary, conferred for 2½ hours with the ministers representing the Common Market six—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

COMPARABLE OUTLETS

The Briton sought to obtain for the three Commonwealth countries once Britain joins the Common Market, farm-export outlets comparable to the ones they now enjoy in Britain.

Sources close to the talks, who issued the no-notable-progress report, said the Italian chairman of the negotiations, Emilio Colombo, repeated the market's proposal that the problems of commodity exports from Canada, Australia and New Zealand should be dealt with in the framework of worldwide commodity agreements.

Colombo, Italy's industry and commerce minister, said an initiative to call an international conference to deal with the matter should be taken as early as 1963.

Nevada Feels 40th Test Underground

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 40th announced nuclear test shot of an underground series dating back to last September was exploded Thursday beneath the Nevada desert.

The Atomic Energy Commission, announcing the underground blast, said it was a low-yield device. That designation is given to explosions having a blast force less than 20,000 tons of TNT.

Churchill Cheerful Despite Fracture

MONTE CARLO (Reuters)—Sir Winston Churchill underwent a successful operation after he broke a thighbone in a fall Thursday and was reported in "good" general condition Thursday night.

Britain's indomitable elder statesman will be flown home today in an RAF plane for further treatment, Churchill's private secretary Anthony Montague-Brown said.

He read to reporters a medical bulletin which said the 87-year-old Churchill suffered a simple fracture of the shaft of the femur, or thighbone, and his general condition was "good."

FELL FROM BED

The wartime British prime minister broke the bone in a fall while getting out of bed in the luxury Hotel de Paris.

He was taken to Monaco's Princess Grace polyclinic and operated on there in the afternoon by Dr. Charles Chatelin, the hospital's chief surgeon.

Hospital officials said the operation consisted of setting the broken bone and putting the leg in plaster. A spokesman said Churchill was "quite comfortable" and added that "he is so cheerful that he is talking about his return to England."

HAD THEM BEFORE

Considering his age, one official said, his resistance was "remarkable — positively Churchillian."

In London, his wife Clementine and son Randolph waited anxiously to see whether they should fly to his bedside but his personal physician, Lord Moran, said "he has had accidents before and come through."

NDP Declares All-Out Fight On Tight Money

TORONTO (CP)—The New Democratic Party leadership promised Thursday an all-out fight against any monetary and fiscal "belt-tightening" measures by Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

Thrift Jars Probe

TORONTO (CP)—John F. Cronin gave the Ontario Royal Commission on Crime a lesson on how to bury $50,000 in glass jars Thursday but left it baffled as to how he accumulated the cache.

The former Ontario Provincial Police sergeant's explanation of how he tucked away roughly as much as he earned in 12 years on the anti-gambling squad left questioners in some awe as they tried to nail down allegations that he was a tipoff man for organized gambling.

"A modern miracle," commented Liberal party counsel B. J. MacKinnon.

LOAVES, FISHES

"The loaves and fishes," Mr. Justice W. D. Roach, the commissioner suggested.

Through four hours of grilling by four lawyers and the commissioner—who called the prosperous motel operator either evasive or stupid—he maintained insistently that he took no evoked money and lived mainly off his working wife's earnings while he loaded up a dozen preserve jars with currency.

BURIED $50,000

The ex-policeman's own account of his earnings was jumbled, but counsel calculated he had some $32,500 in police salary while burying between $30,000 and $35,000 in his years on the force—he said he already had around $20,000 when he joined.

His wife had earned some $35 a week while Cronin himself did some part-time stevedoring, grass-cutting and grave-digging.

At the same time, it reluctantly decided to go along "on a temporary basis" with the prime minister's other austerity measures.

The decisions came Thursday at the end of a one-day gathering, the first meeting of the party's national executive since the June 18 federal election.

VIEW WITH ALARM

In a statement after the meeting, the executive said the government's decision to tighten up the money supply through higher interest rates and to reduce government spending "can only be viewed with alarm."

It said the decision will not only prevent the government from launching a new program to promote employment and growth, "it will also aggravate our present unemployment problem."

SACRIFICE JOHN

It remarked: "The government has clearly decided to sacrifice employment and growth in an effort to maintain the exchange value of the dollar at the pegged rate of 92½ cents."

MAY HURT DOLLAR

It said the policy may become self-defeating, in the long run deterring foreign investment and increasing the downward pressure on the Canadian dollar.

'62 Treaty Still Goal

WASHINGTON (CP)—Interior Secretary Udall said Thursday the Canadian election results appear to be a bit "ambiguous" but that he still hopes that the Columbia River treaty will be ratified by the Canadian Parliament before the end of 1962.

Early Vote Favors Grits

By GERRY McNEIL

QUEBEC (CP)—Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson said Thursday he thinks the Liberals would form a minority government if another election was held this year.

He gave that as one reason Social Credit does not want an election until next spring.

STRENGTH POINT

Mr. Thompson was interviewed after a press conference here in which he stressed that Social Credit will not initiate a vote of non-confidence against the Progressive Conservative minority government this year.

However, he said, the 30 Social Credit members would reluctantly vote against the government if a vote of non-confidence was called on the Diefenbaker austerity measures announced last Sunday.

TIME NEEDED

Mr. Thompson and Deputy Leader René Caouette said the party wants time to organize nationally for the next election.

QUEBEC (CP)—Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson said Thursday sale of downstream power from the Columbia River would do more to balance trade payments than the import surcharges recently announced by the Progressive Conservative government.

QUEBEC (CP)—Deputy Leader René Caouette said Thursday Social Credit is in favor of Canadian union organization.

"But when a labor leader is interested in the establishment of a socialist dictatorship, Social Credit cannot march with him," he told a press conference after a party caucus here.

Mr. Caouette had been asked about criticism of the Social Credit movement in Quebec by Jean Marchand, president of the 100,000-member Confederation of National Trade Unions.

He said the labor leader did not know what he was talking about when he made a "stupid" statement about Social Credit after the election.

Last-Ditch Talks Urged On Medicare

REGINA (CP)—Efforts to arrange a meeting today between Premier Woodrow Lloyd and Dr. H. D. Daigleish, president of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons, for eleventh-hour talks on the medical care plan were being made Thursday night.

Mayor Roy Dean of North Battleford, president of the Saskatchewan Urban Municipalities Association, said in a telephone interview it was hoped to arrange the meeting in Saskatoon.

It was hoped to have officials of the urban and rural municipalities' organizations and the Saskatchewan Hospital Association meet with the premier and Dr. Daigleish for a fresh look at plans for the program, scheduled to start July 1.

CONTINUE TO TRY

Mr. Dean said it would not be known until early today if the meeting would be held. He said the organizations will continue attempts to mediate the bitter dispute between the government and the doctors.

Earlier Thursday, a memorandum to regulations made under the Medical Care Insurance Act were announced. They did not bar the province's doctors in their refusal to work under the legislation.

"The college doesn't doubt that the regulations are in order—but our legal advisers say this does not change the position of Saskatchewan doctors," said Dr. Daigleish.

OPPOSE RULE

"We would still be working under the Medical Care Insurance Act, and this we cannot do," he said.

Premier Lloyd said the government had approved two orders-in-council, effective immediately. They would allow any physician to continue private practice outside the act and without reference to the medical care insurance commission, the body set up to administer the scheme.

He said the regulations removed any doubt that it would be necessary for a physician to withdraw his services after Sunday.

'Call Off Act'

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Medical Association Thursday made a last-ditch appeal to the Saskatchewan government to defer implementation of the province's Medical Care Insurance Act.

The association, in a telegram to Saskatchewan Premier Woodrow Lloyd, asked the government to resume discussions at an early date with the province's doctors, who oppose the act.

It pledged its support and help in any efforts which would follow a public announcement of the medical plan, to come into effect Sunday.

Session Sought

SASKATOON (CP)—Liberal leader Ross Thatcher Thursday called for a special session of the Saskatchewan legislature to deal with the medical care dispute.

He said the Liberal opposition would give every assurance to the government that it would co-operate in passing legislation in order to expedite a settlement.

Emergency Plans

SASKATOON (CP)—Headquarters of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons Thursday resembled Grand Central Station as last-minute plans were being made to serve the province's 820,000 citizens on an emergency-only basis.

Care Co-op Planned

SASKATOON (CP)—Plans to organize a medical care co-operative in the Saskatoon area were announced Thursday.

Clarence Lyons, chairman of a meeting of 50 persons that drew up the plans Wednesday night, said the objective was to provide protection to "consumers" of medical care after July 1.

Mr. Lyons, who is Saskatchewan representative of the United Packinghouse Workers of America, said, "the long-term plan is to provide citizens with the benefits of an organized group medical practice."

He said office facilities and medical staff would be obtained in "the immediate future."

Brace for Invasion

MEDICINE HAT (CP)—The Medicine Hat General Hospital, 30 miles west of the Saskatchewan border, put an emergency plan into operation if the coming weeks bring an influx of patients from Saskatchewan.

The hospital's director of nursing, Elizabeth Bissett, told the board that "because we are so close to the border we expect many more, especially maternity patients."

Miss Bissett said that six extra beds have been set up and that an emergency plan may be put into practice.

Passports to Espionage Wear Canadian Label

By DAVE McINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada in the last two decades has held a strange fascination for spies and other master criminals. The fascination apparently is a Canadian passport.

From Tel Aviv, Israel, came news Thursday that Soviet spy Dr. Robert A. Soblen, a fugitive from the United States, was reported to be travelling on the Canadian passport of his dead brother.

If this were true, the external affairs department and RCMP declined comment on the case—it wouldn't be the first time a master criminal has used a Canadian passport for entry into another country.

On Aug. 30, 1940, in a suburb of Mexico City, a man known as Jacques Mornard but who carried a Canadian passport with the name of Frank Jackson, buried a mountain climber's pick in the head of Leon Trotsky, exiled Bolshevik who was one of the leaders of the Soviet Revolution.

Mornard was sentenced to 20 years in prison, the maximum penalty in Mexico for murder. He was freed May 6, 1960, and flew to Communist Czechoslovakia.

RELEASED DETAILS

It was not until 1953, 13 years after the assassination, that the RCMP released full details on how Mornard obtained a Canadian passport.

The passport was originally issued to Toby Babich of Princeton, B.C., who was killed while serving in the Canadian Mackenzie-Papineau battalion in the Spanish Civil War. The passport fell into the hands of the Russian secret police. Mornard actually is a Spaniard by the name of Ramon Mercader del Rio.

FIRED EMBASSY

On Sept. 5, 1945, cipher clerk Igor Gouzenko fled from the Russian embassy with documents disclosing a Russian spy network in Canada.

A 10-year prison term was given in London, England, to Dr. Allan Nunn May, British atomic scientist, for disclosing the occasion to sound warning to motorists that youngsters will be crossing streets at all hours of the day and will be thickest along routes to parks, beaches and playgrounds.—(Colonist photo.)

Base Rate Increase Opposed

DUNCAN—Restaurateurs and hotel keepers will oppose any suggestion of drastic increases in the basic rate of 65 cents an hour for workers in the trade when the Labor Relations Board considers the terms of the Minimum Wage Act as it applies to employees in the industry.

The board will hear representations from the workers' unions in the fall, and Wednesday members of the Victoria and Vancouver Island branch of the Canadian Restaurant Association decided at a meeting held at the Silver Bridge Inn to protest against any departure from the existing minimum rate.

A spokesman for the group said Thursday that the trade was already "so marginal" that any increase would prevent many businesses from carrying on. He added "it will also make it difficult for us to keep some workers who could not find a job in any other trade."

COURTENAY—Mayor W. C. Moore doesn't think the $100 homeowner grant will be much of a boon to homeowners of Courtenay.

He told Rotarians that while the city would gain $12,000 in tax on government buildings, it would lose $53,000 in per capita grant.

This, he said, would mean a seven-mill increase for home-

The new plan would leave the commission with $57,000 to raise by increased taxation.

NANAIMO—Gary Wayne Mercer, alias Ferguson, 18, was finally brought before Magistrate Lionel Weaver-Potts Thursday, after being at liberty since his escape from Brannan Lake School last May 10.

He and two other youths broke into the Venice Cafe on that date, took cigarettes and money, then stole a car belonging to L. Lynn of Wellington.

The magistrate sentenced him to four months definite and 18 months indefinite in the Oakalla young offenders unit, with a recommendation that he be sent to the Haney Correctional Institute.

NANAIMO—The Junior Chamber of Commerce held its final meeting of the season Wednesday. Peter Littlewood, retiring president, expressed the hope the Jaycee organization would lift its sights and engage in more international work.

Annual litter bag project will be continued this year, when 10,000 bags will be distributed to motorists through service stations.

The next meeting, when the new executive will be installed, will be held at the new Tally Ho Lodge Sept. 2. Peter Schwarze will be the next president.

DUNCAN—Seven members of the Victoria Kiwanis downtown club were guests at the local club Wednesday evening.

Dr. C. A. Porter, a scientist at the Shawnigan Lake Boys' School, was guest speaker. He spoke on ghosts and the supernatural.

Trustee for Cowichan School District 65, Harold Whitfield will be next Wednesday's guest speaker. He will speak to members on "extra curricular activities."

GANGES—Under the auspices of Admiral Lodge, No. 170 AF and AM, Ganges, funeral services for Albert Manfield, whose death occurred June 23 in Lady Minto Hospital, were held in St. George's Church, Ganges, on June 26. Archdeacon G. H. Holmes officiated.

Mr. Manfield, 78, was born in London, England, and had been a resident of Ganges for nine years.

Surviving are his wife, Ella, at home; two sons, Commander (RCN) W. A. Manfield, Ottawa; Albert (Andy) Manfield, Vancouver; two daughters; two step-daughters; several grand and great-grand children.

COURTENAY—Cash donations of $2,625 have been made to Canadian Peace Research locally with another $600 pledged.

More than $500 was netted at a holiday ball in May while other donations have come from coffee parties, cash gifts and a tag day.

Headmaster Tells Rotary:

Shape of Youth Deplorable

NANAIMO—General standard of fitness of Canadian youth is deplorable, Nanaimo Rotarians were told this week.

Address by Dr. David McKenzie, headmaster of Brentwood Boys' College, was a feature of the meeting at which Don Cunliffe was installed as the Nanaimo club's 42nd president. New executive members were also installed.

Dr. McKenzie pulled no punches in his fitness attack, blaming widespread use of the automobile and consequent lack of adequate exercise for the unhealthy situation.

FIND REMEDY He hoped that Rotary might do something to find a remedy.

Judge A. M. Hanna installed the new president, referring to his father, the well-known Nanaimo lawyer who had drawn up bylaws for the club here. Mrs. Cunliffe Sr. came over from Vancouver for the installation.

Recreation Minister Earle Westwood congratulated Rotary on its work in connection with youth, and the Friendship Group at Seattle's Century 21, while Mayor Pete Maffei praised the club's development of Bowen Park.

Others installed were Jim Thorpe, vice-president; Harold Eakin, secretary, and Percy Cowman, treasurer.

NANAIMO—Awards with a total value of $5,000 were presented to top students at graduation exercises of Nanaimo Senior School this week.

After the principal, J. B. Litch, had opened the proceedings, J. O. Swan, the vice-principal, made the 40 awards.

The Raymond Watchorn Memorial Shield was won jointly by Margaret Johnstone, valedictorian, and Carlos Johansen. This award was presented by the student counsellor, Frank Sloan, and the recipients were also given watches.

The $2,000 Crown Zellerbach teacher training scholarship was won by Ernest Johnstone, while Carlos Johansen took the $500 MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River scholarship. Carlos is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Johansen. He was vice-president of the students' council and editor of the school annual when in Grade 12.

The MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River $250 general program scholarship was won by Colleen Armitage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Armitage, Nanaimo.

Relatives in Sweden are anxious to get in touch with John Arthur Peterson.

He is Canadian-born and believed to be 26 years old. Anyone knowing his present whereabouts is asked to call the Canadian Red Cross Society, 1046 Fort Street, EV 2-1559.

She expects to attend a school of advanced business training and will use her scholarship for that purpose.

On a house assessed at $7,000 and taxed at a value of $3,500, the tax is now $220, less the $50 grant.

With an increased mill rate the tax would be $257 less $100 homeowner grant. The additional $50 means only a saving of $12 on taxes.

CAMPBELL RIVER—Village commissioners here will send a protest by letter to Premier Bennett on his homeowners' grant proposal.

It would mean, they say, that present upkeep expenditure for Campbell River, $138,000, could only be met by raising the mill rate from its present 16 to 27.1 mills.

Logger's Inquest July 4

PORT ALBERNI—An inquest will be held Wednesday evening, July 4, into the death of Anton Svodatz, 30, killed in Franklin River division of Macmillan, Bloedel & Powell River Ltd., on June 27.

Mr. Svodatz was a power saw buckler and was working in the Nitinat area of the large logging operations at the time of the accident. He is believed to have been struck by a falling snag.

He was a resident of Port Alberni and a native of Yugoslavia, coming to Canada 10 years ago.

He leaves his wife, Maria, at the family home, 710 Seventh Ave. S.; a one-year-old son, Stanley, a daughter, Helen (three), and a sister in Yugoslavia.

Prayers will be said in Stevens Funeral Home at 7:30 p.m. today and requiem mass will be in Notre Dame Church at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Business Keeps Pace with Growing Oak Bay Marina

First stage of the Oak Bay Marina development, construction of float facilities for some 400 pleasure craft, expected to be completed in a week, is already doing a brisk business, with higher than 70 per cent occupancy, marina manager Bob Wright said yesterday. About $50,000 has been spent to date on the $400,000 project, which will be completed in three stages. Next step will be to install lighting, power and water lines in the next 10 days. Fueling facilities and boat houses will be built by fall. Construction of marina buildings will start this winter. —(Bill Boucher photo.)

Injured Logger Dies

DUNCAN—Robert Palmer, 19-year-old logger of Lake Cowichan, died Thursday afternoon from injuries received in a logging accident at Gordon River shortly after 7 a.m. Wednesday. Palmer was apparently working on some butt rigging when a piece of wood flew out and struck him. He was rushed to King's Daughters' Hospital by ambulance but died during the afternoon.

Two Bids Too High For School

COURTENAY—Only two bids were received for construction of a four-room school and auditorium at Arden and both were rejected as being too high by school trustees.

Lickley, Johnson and Palmer, Vancouver, tendered $124,469 while E. J. Hunter, Victoria, tendered $119,937.

Lifeguard Hours Set For Nanaimo Area

NANAIMO—Frank Anco, president of the Water Safety Association, has announced the hours during which lifeguards will be on duty at the three points where this service has been set up.

From Saturday through Labor Day, guards will be stationed at Westwood Lake from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m.; Harwood Dam, 1 p.m. to 9 p.m.; Departure Bay, 12 noon to 8 p.m.

However, each guard will have one day a week off and, until further funds are forthcoming to pay for substitutes, there will be no guard at Harwood on Thursday during the first week in July. In subsequent weeks the off day will be Tuesday. At Departure Bay there will be no guard on Tuesday next, but in subsequent weeks the off day will be Monday.

The off days for Westwood Lake have not yet been decided.

Entertainment plans have not been completed, a spokesman for the centennial society said yesterday, but will include groups from neighboring cities, local ethnic displays and dancing and fashion shows.

BEFORE COUNCIL. The request will likely be considered by city council at its meeting this afternoon.

HAROLD HARDY

At Last A Mall—Maybe

Almost five years after the first pedestrian mall was suggested for Victoria the city will actually get one—for a few days—if city council agrees.

Victoria Centennial Society yesterday applied to council for permission to block off Broad Street, between Fort and Broughton Streets, from July 27 to Aug. 1.

JAYCEE PROJECT

Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce has been asked to take over construction of the one-block mall which will feature a host of entertainments in conjunction with the centennial pageant.

Entertainment plans have not been completed, a spokesman for the centennial society said yesterday, but will include groups from neighboring cities, local ethnic displays and dancing and fashion shows.

BEFORE COUNCIL. The request will likely be considered by city council at its meeting this afternoon.

City Donates $8 to Charity In Your Behalf

By TED SHACKLEFORD

Whether he wants to support them or not, the average city homeowner will donate some $8 this year to various charities and organizations—and it could go higher.

This is Mr. Homeowner's share of the $162,000 city council has budgeted to give away in lump sums ranging from $50 to $50,000.

On top of that, some of the same organizations will knock at his door seeking donations or will stop him in the street to sell him a tag.

Of course, Mr. Average Homeowner pays taxes only on a $4,600 assessment. Taxpayers with higher assessments will pay more.

NOT ALL CHARITIES. The total of $162,000 is considerably above the $25,000 yearly which voters agreed in 1953 should go to charities, but not all the recipients come strictly under the heading of charities.

Biggest grant of them all—$50,000—goes to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

TOURISM GRANTS

Other grants primarily for tourism include $6,230 toward the cost of a publicity booth in Seattle during the period of the Seattle World's Fair, $2,333 toward the operating costs of the Expo-Lodging accommodation bureau in Victoria and $2,500 given to Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Not all the grants being given by city council this year are annual grants—some of them are this year's installment on a larger, overall grant.

The $25,000 for the Victoria University Development Fund is the third of five equal grants pledged to the appeal.

FIRST INSTALLMENT

Another $25,000 to the St. Joseph's Hospital building appeal is the first installment on a pledge of some $125,000, and the $15,000 toward the Salvation Army's Matson-Sunset Lodge fund is the second of three similar amounts.

Royal Jubilee Hospital will be given $4,176—second of five payments toward construction of a new psychiatric unit.

And $1,545 for the St. John Ambulance Brigade is the second of three grants to total $4,640.

The St. John Ambulance Brigade belongs to the Greater Victoria Community Chest, together with three other groups which receive grants from the city—YMCA, YWCA and the Victorian Order of Nurses.

WORMS' EYE VIEW: Fisherman Jimmy Rowe, along with a lot of other anglers, has been having difficulty securing a steady supply of worms.

The other day he put his grandson to work and the youngster managed to unearth quite a few worms.

They put them in with some moist moss to keep them fresh and placed the can just inside the garage door.

Now Jimmy and his grandson are looking for more.

The crows came down and ate the worms!

Saanich Wants More Collections

What Garbage Truck? Some Residents Ask

About half the residents of Saanich want more frequent garbage collection but some residents aren't getting service at all, a Colonist spot check survey indicated last night.

A shift to weekly pickup mooted earlier this year has developed into a recommendation to Saanich council by its health and welfare committee that next year's council implement the proposal.

But half the residents reached by the Colonist would like to see stepped-up collection this summer and were prepared to foot the additional cost estimated at about $1 a month.

The survey showed that not all Saanich garbage gets to the dump.

Residents burn it, bury it, stack it up in compost heaps, let it pile up in back yards, haul it away themselves, feed it to livestock, watch the rats devour it and try to ignore its pungent smell and the clouds of flies it brings.

Large families have the worst problem.

Saanich's garbage collection system, let out by contract, permits each household only two garbage cans which are supposed to be emptied every two weeks.

Several residents last night complained that collection is sporadic and others say they never see a garbage truck.

H. G. McWILLIAMS
... desirable move

No Pickups for Months

One woman didn't seem to realize there is a Saanich garbage collection.

"Who's going to pick up our garbage?" asked Mrs. Ronald McCracken of the reporter who asked her how she found the service.

She said no garbage had been picked up since she moved into a home at 6103 Patricia Bay Highway two months ago.

"We do have a garbage can here but nobody comes to pick it up." In the meantime, "heaps of tin cans" found on the premises when they moved in are growing larger, she said.

Said Mrs. David Nunn, 4631 West Saanich Road: "Weekly

service is a wonderful idea, I would pay $1 per month for it. The man comes around sometimes in two weeks and sometimes three weeks. If he has trouble with the truck, it's three or four weeks.

"When he doesn't come for three weeks, the garbage can gets so full you can't shut the lid, and I've seen rats run out of the can when it's like this."

Philip Gibbons, 4986 West Saanich Road: "I'm so far off the beaten path that I haven't had garbage collection. I bury it or burn it. If I have something not combustible I put it in a can and flag down the truck or phone them to pick it up."

Awful in the Summer

Mrs. Irene Scott, 3884 Wilkinson: "I think it's horrible. It's not bad during the winter months but we find it's awful in the summer. By the time two weeks come around, it smells and it's overflowing. And it causes flies."

"I used to have two cans but one got a small hole in the bottom and the garbage man tipped the bottom out and left the can upside down in the driveway so I'd have to get a new one. Now I use just one can and I've got a garbage disposal unit in the sink."

She said garbage should be collected every week and that she would be willing to pay the expected cost increase. "It wouldn't make that much difference. What's another $6 on top of what you pay now?"

Mrs. Phyllis Gerrard, 4541 West Saanich Road: "It would be better if it was collected once a week in the summer. I have no complaints about the contractor but you don't want garbage hanging around too long."

Scraps to Chickens

"We burn all combustibles, put vegetable scraps in the compost heap, give meat scraps to the chickens and just put cans and bottles in the one garbage can."

Mrs. Leonard Thomas, 3101 Quadra: "Service was all right when it was regular. But I'm quite certain it's gone three and four weeks in the past three months."

Blind Stand Is Gyped

Two mercury-coated one-cent pieces were passed as dimes at the Belmont National Institute for the Blind confectionery stand at the Belmont Building, police were told yesterday.

"Usually our can was not full. We use a lot of frozen foods and burn the boxes, and I also shove cans one into another. But in three weeks the can will overflow."

Mrs. Patricia Sutton, 4823 Cordova Bay Road: "I'm for weekly service, particularly in the summer when the garbage is more likely to smell and has something to do with the number of flies around the house."

Mrs. Elizabeth Owen, 4591 Cordova Bay: "I'm in favor of the service staying the way it is. I find that once every two weeks just gets us by."

Mrs. Fred Polson, 5024 Patricia Bay: "Every two weeks is okay with us because we don't have much. We don't have much canned goods; we grow our own vegetables and keep them in a deep freezer. We burn rubbish in a coalwood furnace."

View Royal Assured Book Rights

View Royal residents seem sure of being allowed to use Victoria Public Library.

A petition, signed by some 800 of the residents, asking that they be allowed to contribute to the costs of the library's operation through provincial taxes, will likely be considered by city council this afternoon.

Earlier this week, Greater Victoria School Board gave its blessing to the request and H. G. McWilliams, chairman of Victoria Library board, has since notified city council the board also favors the request.

NAME PETITION

Plight of some 500 school children living in the unorganized territory prompted the collection of 800 names to the petition.

The children are allowed to use the provincial library in the legislative buildings but this library closes weekdays before the children can come to town. Books are ordered by mail.

Although the library board has not had a chance to discuss the petition, it approved the plan in principle earlier this year. Mr. McWilliams wrote to city council.

DESIRABLE MOVE

"It is the feeling of the board that this is a desirable move, not only for the residents of View Royal, but also for the city and the library," he said.

The service "can be extended to View Royal at very little, if any, additional cost."

Mr. McWilliams said the estimated cost to View Royal residents is some $2,000.

Holiday Closing

All provincial government offices will be closed Monday for the Dominion Day holiday. The Provincial Museum will be open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Grim State of Austerity Unfurls New Colors

Peter Bruton's NOTEBOOK

A NATION'S ILLS: A spy reports that the Red Ensign flying above the Belmont Building was upside down Wednesday.

The Belmont Building of course houses the local office of the federal income tax department.

And a flag upside down is a sign of distress.

Maybe the situation is indeed worse than we think!

WORMS' EYE VIEW: Fisherman Jimmy Rowe, along with a lot of other anglers, has been having difficulty securing a steady supply of worms.

The other day he put his grandson to work and the youngster managed to unearth quite a few worms.

They put them in with some moist moss to keep them fresh and placed the can just inside the garage door.

Now Jimmy and his grandson are looking for more.

The crows came down and ate the worms!

SUDS AND SKITS: Newsman Larry Rose and his wife went into a beer parlor in New Westminster the other day when Larry found all he had was a $5 U.S. bill.

He ordered two beers and tendered the American money. The bartender shook his head and gave Larry back a Canadian $5 bill.

The exchange, you see, paid for the beer.

Incidentally, the bartender was Jack Blonds.

WRONG SIDE OF TRACKS: Worthy of passing mention is the fact that while workmen are doing their best to beautify Douglas Street the condition of the roadside on the other side of the E and N tracks is shocking.

Weeds, tall grass and thistles abound.

It's high time whoever is responsible did something about it—before the Douglas Street beautification is finished!

THE THINGS WE HEAR: The Empress Hotel has been getting some unexpected guests as a result of American tourists rebelling at the rates charged by some city motels.

Empress manager Cyril Chapman told us the other day that this year the tourist bumper one for the tourist industry anyway... the big thing, therefore, is to make tourists feel they are welcome so they will come back in future years.

Sound thinking.

AROUND TOWN: Victoria's Dick Scroggie has opened the Soho Club at the Shelbourne shopping plaza. It now occupies those fancy premises originally destined for a B.C. government liquor store until the "drys" put the kibosh on the idea.

Jaycee president Eric Chapman would like to see a big conference of Vancouver Island tourist people late this year to plan some proper program to keep the industry thriving after this year's upsurge.

Don Anderson is doing his best to lure us into being a target for the custard pie throwing contest at the Centennial Autorama. We'll settle by giving the Victoria Lions some publicity. It's a wonderful show, yesiree!

Princess Royal Sails

QUEBEC (CP) — The Princess Royal sailed for England Thursday night after a 15-day visit to Canada.

Before being taken by tender to the Empress of England, she reviewed a guard of honor of the Royal 22nd Regiment while a 21-gun salute echoed over the ancient battlements of the Citadel.

Several hundred Quebecers lined the Esplanade and the waterfront to cheer the 65-year-old princess.

Thursday she toured the nearby Ile d'Orleans, stopping at the village of St. Francois where she visited a Roman Catholic Church built in 1734.

Market Talks Stalled

BRUSSELS (CP-Reuters) — Edward Heath, Britain's chief negotiator for entry into the European Common Market, was reported Thursday to have made no notable progress in obtaining Common Market guarantees for Canadian, Australian and New Zealand farm exports.

Heath, deputy foreign secretary, conferred for 2½ hours with the ministers representing the Common Market six—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

COMPARABLE OUTLETS
The British sought to obtain for the three Commonwealth countries once Britain joins the Common Market, farm-export outlets comparable to the ones they now enjoy in Britain.

Scissors close to the talks, who issued the no-notable-progress report, said the Italian chairman of the negotiations, Emilio Colombo, repeated the market's proposal that the problems of commodity exports from Canada, Australia and New Zealand should be dealt with in the framework of worldwide commodity agreements.

Colombo, Italy's industry and commerce minister, said an initiative to call an international conference to deal with the matter should be taken as early as 1963.

Nevada Feels 40th Test Underground

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 40th announced nuclear test shot of an underground series dating back to last September was exploded Thursday beneath the Nevada desert.

The Atomic Energy Commission, announcing the underground blast, said it was a low-yield device. That designation is given to explosions having a blast force less than 20,000 tons of TNT.

Dog Saves Young Master

Two close friends show their fondness for each other after Boxer Pup-Pup killed a rattlesnake which had threatened its master, David Gamble, 3, of Chattanooga, Tenn. The dog barely survived three snakebites.

Churchill Cheerful Despite Fracture

MONTE CARLO (Reuters)—Sir Winston Churchill underwent a successful operation after he broke a thighbone in a fall Thursday and was reported in "good" general condition Thursday night.

Britain's indomitable elder statesman will be flown home today in an RAF plane for further treatment. Churchill's private secretary Anthony Montague-Brown said.

He read to reporters a medical bulletin which said the 81-year-old Churchill suffered a simple fracture of the shaft of the femur, or thighbone, and his general condition was "good."

FELL FROM BED
The wartime British prime minister broke the bone in a fall while getting out of bed in the luxury Hotel de Paris.

He was taken to Monaco's Princess Grace polyclinic and operated on there in the afternoon by Dr. Charles Chatelin, the hospital's chief surgeon.

Hospital officials said the operation consisted of setting the broken bone and putting the leg in plaster. A spokesman said Churchill was "quite comfortable" and added that "he is so cheerful that he is talking about his return to England."

HAD THEM BEFORE
Considering his age, an official said, his resistance was "remarkable—positively Churchillian."

In London, his wife Clementine and son Randolph waited anxiously to see whether they should fly to his bedside but his personal physician, Lord Moran, said "he has had accidents before and come through."

Moran was sentenced to 20 years in prison, the maximum penalty in Mexico for murder. He was freed May 6, 1960, and flew to Communist Czechoslovakia.

RELEASED DETAILS
It was not until 1953, 13 years after the assassination, that the RCMP released full details on how Moran obtained a Canadian passport.

On Aug. 20, 1940, in a suburb of Mexico City, a man known as Jacques Moran but who carried a Canadian passport with the name of Frank Jackson, buried a mountain climber's pick in the head of Leon Trotsky, exiled Bolshevik who was one of the leaders of the Soviet Revolution.

The passport was originally issued to Tony Babich of Princeton, B.C., who was killed while serving in the Canadian Mackenzie-Papineau Battalion in the Spanish Civil War. The passport fell into the hands of the Russian secret police. Moran actually is a Spaniard by the name of Ramon Mercader del Rio.

On Sept. 5, 1945, cipher clerk Igor Gouzenko fled from the Russian embassy with documents disclosing a Russian spy network in Canada.

11TH HOUR TALKS URGED IN REGINA

Tight-Money War Declared by NDP

TORONTO (CP) — The New Democratic Party leadership promised Thursday an all-out fight against any monetary and fiscal "belt-tightening" measures by Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

At the same time, it reluctantly decided to go along "on a temporary basis" with the prime minister's other austerity measures.

The decisions came Thursday at the end of a one-day gathering, the first meeting of the party's national executive since the June 18 federal election.

VIEW WITH ALARM
In a statement after the meeting, the executive said the government's decision to tighten up the money supply through higher interest rates and to reduce government spending "can only be viewed with alarm."

It said the decision will not only prevent the government from launching a new program to promote employment and growth, "it will also aggravate our present unemployment problem."

SACRIFICE JOB
It remarked: "The government has clearly decided to sacrifice employment and growth in an effort to maintain the exchange value of the dollar at the pegged rate of 92½ cents."

MAY HURT DOLLAR
It said the policy may become self-defeating, in the long run deterring foreign investment and increasing the downward pressure on the Canadian dollar.

"A modern miracle," commented Liberal party counsel B. J. Mackinnon.

"The leaves and fishes," Mr. Justice W. D. Ronch, the commissioner suggested.

His wife had earned some $35 a week while Cronin himself did some part-time steeplechasing, grass-cutting and grave-digging.

Early Vote Favors Grits

By GERRY McNEIL

QUEBEC (CP) — Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson said Thursday he thinks the Liberals would form a minority government if another election was held this year.

He gave that as one reason Social Credit does not want an election until next spring.

STRESSES POINT

Mr. Thompson was interviewed after a press conference here in which he stressed that Social Credit will not initiate a vote of non-confidence against the Progressive Conservative minority government this year.

However, he said, the 30 Social Credit members would reluctantly vote against the government if a vote of non-confidence was called on the Trade and Commerce Measures Act announced last Sunday.

TIME NEEDED
Mr. Thompson and Deputy Leader Real Caouette said the party wants time to organize nationally for the next election.

QUEBEC (CP) — Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson said Thursday sale of downstream power from the Columbia River would do more to balance trade payments than the import surcharges recently announced by the Progressive Conservative government.

REGINA (CP) — Efforts to arrange a meeting today between Premier Woodrow Lloyd and Dr. H. D. Dalglish, president of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons, for eleventh-hour talks on the medical care plan were being made Thursday night.

Mayor Roy Dean of North Battleford, president of the Saskatchewan Urban Municipalities Association, said in a telephone interview it was hoped to arrange the meeting in Saskatoon.

It was hoped to have officials of the urban and rural municipalities' organizations and the Saskatchewan Hospital Association meet with the premier and Dr. Dalglish for a fresh look at plans for the program, scheduled to start July 1.

CONTINUE TO TRY

Mr. Dean said it would not be known until early today if the meeting would be held. He said the organizations will continue attempts to mediate the bitter dispute between the government and the doctors.

Earlier Thursday, amendments to regulations made under the Medical Care Insurance Act were announced. They did not budge the province's doctors in their refusal to work under the legislation.

"The college doesn't doubt that the regulations are in order—but our legal advisers say this does not change the position of Saskatchewan doctors," said Dr. Dalglish.

OPPOSE RULE

"We would still be working under the Medical Care Insurance Act, and this we cannot do."

Premier Lloyd said the government had approved two orders-in-council, effective immediately. They would allow any physician to continue private practice outside the act and without reference to the medical care insurance commission, the body set up to administer the scheme.

He said the regulations removed any doubt that it would be necessary for a physician to withdraw his services after Sunday.

'Call Off Act'

TORONTO (CP) — The Canadian Medical Association Thursday made a last-ditch appeal to the Saskatchewan government to defer implementation of the province's Medical Care Insurance Act.

The association, in a telegram to Saskatchewan Premier Woodrow Lloyd, asked the government to resume discussions at an early date with the province's doctors, who oppose the act.

It pledged its support and help in any efforts which would follow a public announcement of an indefinite postponement of the medical plan to come into effect Sunday.

Session Sought

SASKATOON (CP) — Liberal leader Ross Thatcher Thursday called for a special session of the Saskatchewan legislature to deal with the medical care dispute.

He said the Liberal opposition would give every assurance to the government that it would co-operate in passing legislation in order to expedite a settlement.

Emergency Plans

SASKATOON (CP) — Headquarters of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons Thursday resembled Grand Central Station as last-minute plans were being made to serve the province's 820,000 citizens on an emergency-only basis.

Care Co-op Planned

SASKATOON (CP) — Plans to organize a medical care co-operative in the Saskatoon area were announced Thursday.

Clarence Lyons, chairman of a meeting of 30 persons that drew up the plans Wednesday night, said the objective was to provide protection to "consumers" of medical care after July 1.

Mr. Lyons, who is Saskatchewan representative of the United Packinghouse Workers of America, said, "The long-term plan is to provide citizens with the benefits of an organized group medical practice."

He said office facilities and medical staff would be obtained in "the immediate future."

Braced for Invasion

MEDICINE HAT (CP) — The Medicine Hat General Hospital, 30 miles west of the Saskatchewan border, put an emergency plan into operation if the coming weeks bring an influx of patients from Saskatchewan.

The hospital's director of nursing, Elizabeth Betsch, told the board that "because we are so close to the border we expect many more, especially maternity patients."

Miss Betsch said that six extra beds have been set up and that an emergency plan may be put into practice.

Passports to Espionage Wear Canadian Label

By DAVE McINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada in the last two decades has held a strange fascination for spies and other master criminals. The fascination apparently is a Canadian passport.

From Tel Aviv, Israel, came news Thursday that Soviet spy Dr. Robert A. Soblen, a fugitive from the United States, was reported to be travelling on the Canadian passport of his dead brother.

If this were true—the external affairs department and RCMP declined comment on the case—it wouldn't be the first time a master criminal has used a Canadian passport for entry into another country.

On Aug. 20, 1940, in a suburb of Mexico City, a man known as Jacques Moran but who carried a Canadian passport with the name of Frank Jackson, buried a mountain climber's pick in the head of Leon Trotsky, exiled Bolshevik who was one of the leaders of the Soviet Revolution.
